$10,000,000.00 Five-twenty Bonds Called In.

The Alleged Irregularities at the Red Cloud Agency.

WASHINGTON, July 14, 1875.

Redemption of Bonds.

The following is the twenty-second call for the redemption of five-twenty bonds of 1862:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, July 14, 1875.—By virtue of the authority granted by act of Congress, approved July 14, 1870, entitled "An act to authorize the refunding of the national debt," I hereby give notice that the principal and accrued interest of the bonds herein below designated, known as five-twenty bonds, will be paid at the Treasury of the United States, in the City of Washington, on and after the fourteenth day of October, 1875, and that interest on the said bonds will cease on that day; that is to say, coupon bonds known as the fourth series of the act of February 25th, 1862, dated May 1, 1862, as follows: Coupon bonds—$50, No. 21,701 to No. 23,500, both inclusive; $100, No. 64,501 to No. 75,000, both inclusive; $500, No. 34,001 to No. 38,200, both inclusive; $1,000, No. 96,901 to No. 108,000, both inclusive. The amount outstanding embraced in the numbers as above is $10,000,000. United States securities forwarded for redemption should be addressed to the Loan Division of the Secretary's office.

(Signed) B. H. BRISTOW, Secretary.

An Answer to Prof. Marsh's Letter.

The Commissioner of Indian Affairs makes the following statement in regard to the letter of Professor Marsh, published this morning: Some time ago Prof. Marsh returned from a western tour, during which he visited the Red Cloud Indian Agency. About the time of his return numerous charges of misconduct in office against Agent Saville, of the Red Cloud Agency, which involved the character of the supplies and the manner of their distribution, appeared in the Liberal papers, all calculated apparently to affect the Indian Office and the Indian Department over the shoulders of Agent Saville. Prof. Marsh came to Washington, called upon me and presented a sample of the supplies, which, he claimed, came from Red Cloud, but which he had not verified personally. He did not call upon the Secretary of the Interior, nor did he communicate with him by writing. He was presented by the Postmaster General to the President, and reiterated these general and indefinite accusations. To all these the Secretary made no reply, as nothing had been presented to him definite enough to justify an answer. During the visit of the Soux delegation to Washington in May last, Prof. Marsh made his appearance, and after remaining several days in the city without calling upon the Secretary or communicating with him, the Secretary, being informed he was present at one of the Indian meetings, introduced himself and asked the Professor to call at his office. The Professor called, and the Secretary requested him to give him in writing any grounds of complaints he might have against the Indian service at Red Cloud's agency, in order that he might examine and investigate them. This the Professor declined to do. The Secretary had previously requested the Board of Indian Commissioners to appoint persons to investigate these vague and indefinite charges. Thus matters stood until the board of which Clinton B. Fisk is President selected commissioners to investigate Professor Marsh's complaints. When the persons thus selected were appointed, the Professor was notified by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs of the appointment and very politely requested to furnish the Indian Office or the Commissioners with any information in his possession or any proof at his command to sustain any charges which he might feel disposed to make.

The Commission that has been appointed consists of ex-Governor Fletcher, of St. Louis, Benj. W. Harris, of East Bridgewater, Mass., and a member of the present Congress, Charles J. Faulkner, of Martinsburg, West Virginia, and a member of the Forty-fourth Congress, and a Democrat, and will proceed to investigate Prof. Marsh's complaints. This statement of facts is deemed due to Mr. Saville, the Red Cloud agent, to Prof. Marsh himself, and to the Indian Office.

Treasury Troubles.

Major McGrew, whose name has been repeatedly mentioned in connection with charges against Avery, the chief clerk of the Treasury Department, is now here, but has not visited the Treasury. His friends say he has no intention of presenting any formal complaints to the Secretary. Up to this time the Department is without official information from St. Louis relative to an indictment said to have been found against Avery.

THE FIRST BALE.

Excitement in Cotton Circles in New Orleans — The First Bale from St. Laundry Parish, La.

NEW ORLEANS, July 14.—The Price Current says: Our cotton circles were completely taken by surprise this morning by the receipt of a bale of new cotton arrived last evening, not from the Rio Grande, as usual, but from St. Laundry parish, shipped by Mr. Joseph Berand, from his plantation on the Teche. As this is considerably in advance of general expectation, it has occasioned unusual excitement among factors and brokers, the more so because there can be no mistake about the bale being all of the new crop, well ginned, of good shape and color, classing middling fair to fair (new classification), and weighing upwards of 400 pounds. We learn that this cotton is mostly from Mr. Berand's plantation, but received liberal contributions from his neighbors, who were furnished by him with the seed planted, an unusually early variety, known as the "Herlong," selected with the anticipation of getting an early yield. Under the circumstances this arrival must be regarded as exceptional and very much in advance of the general Louisiana crop. In fact, owing to recent rains, no more can be expected for some time from the same locality. The bale was purchased by Col. W. M. Owen, at the fancy price of twenty-five cents, eight for a premium, to be awarded for the first bale, being reserved to the planter. Owen forwards it by express to-day to Messrs. Bliss, Bennett & Co., of New York. This completely eclipses the Rio Grande bales, which will be due to-morrow. Our first receipt of the Louisiana crop last year was on August 12th, and in the year before on August 1st.

THE BOOK TRADE.

Proceedings of the American Book Trade Association.

NIAGARA FALLS, July 14.—The American Book Trade Association opened its meeting yesterday afternoon by an address from the President, in which he alluded to the growing interest in the Association by the whole trade. The executive committee have reported very stringent resolutions, which were referred to a committee.

The Convention assembled at 10 A. M. The proceedings were opened with an invitation from President Randolph to spend a few minutes in what is termed an "experience meeting," which was entered into with considerable interest by the members generally, and called out considerable humor.

A committee of thirty reported a resolution that none but members of this Association shall be allowed to participate in the book fair, either as sellers or buyers, which was passed unanimously. Another resolution, requesting publishers to lessen their discounts to persons who persist in underselling after they have been reported by the Committee of Arbitration, was under discussion at the time of adjournment, and will probably pass with some amendment in the wording.

Committees were appointed on local organizations and on religious publication societies.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, July 14, 1875.

Another Bold Robbery.

Yesterday a well-dressed man, at present unknown, entered No. 4 Maugin street, and informed the occupant, Mrs. Van Slack, that he was a Sanitary Inspector. After inspecting and approving the condition of the premises, he sat down beside the old lady and engaged her in a pleasant conversation for a short time, when, suddenly seizing her by the throat, he choked her into insensibility and robbed her of a wallet containing fifty dollars, her watch and spectacles.

Recruits for Brigham Young.

The steamship Idaho, from Liverpool, landed to-day at Castle Garden about 750 Mormons, under the charge of seven agents appointed by Brigham Young to conduct them from Europe to Utah. Of this number between 500 and 600 are adults, including a number of young women. Ninety-six are natives of the British Isles, while the remainder are Scandinavian.

"Served Them Right."

NEW ORLEANS, July 14.—A letter in the Bulletin from Milton, Florida, reports the lynching of a white man and a negro, each charged with rape. The verdict of the coroner's jury was "Hanged by parties unknown, and served them right.

FOREIGN NEWS.

SPAIN.

The New Constitution.

MADRID, July 14.—It is asserted that the article of the new Constitution embodying the principle of religious liberty will be supported, when it comes up for final action in the constitutional committee, by a vote of twenty-three to ten.

Diplomatic.

The Imparciel states that a diplomatic agent of China is coming to Madrid, and Chinese consuls will be appointed to Cuba.

Dorregaray Turning Back.

LONDON, July 14.—Advices from the Spanish frontier, received by way of Bayonne, report that Gen. Dorregaray, being unable to penetrate into French territory, has turned back in the direction of Barbastro. Six officers and 172 men belonging to his rear guard were compelled to take refuge in France near Gavarnie. They were promptly arrested by the French authorities, disarmed and interned. Troops have been sent from Pau to guard the frontier.

Don Carlos is at Villa Real, with a strong force.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Serious Inundation.

LONDON, July 14.—Recent rains have swollen the rivers and streams in the valley of Severn and caused a serious inundation. A number of dwellings in Blackency are flooded. The waters continue to rise rapidly and there is great excitement.

A Failure.

The meeting called by the Radical clubs for to-night at Trafalgar Square to protest against the grant for the Prince of Wales' Indian journey was a failure.

The American Team

arrived in this city to-night, and proceeded quietly to their hotel. They will decide to-morrow morning on the latest proposition of the Council of the National Rifle Association.

GERMANY.

The Emperor on His Way to Salzburg.

MUNICH, July 14.—Emperor William, strictly incognito, arrived here this afternoon, on his way to Salzburg.

COTTON CONGRESS.

The Proceedings of Yesterday's Session.

RALEIGH, N. C., July 14.—At the morning session of the Cotton Congress Judge Jones, of Arkansas, delivered an address on the subject of establishing agricultural bureaus in the several States. He read a telegram from the agent at New Orleans of the Rockdale Corporation Company of England, asking a committee of conference, and Messrs. Maxwell, of Tennessee, Jones, of Arkansas, Jones of Georgia, and Butler, of Georgia, were made said committee.

Col. Holt, of North Carolina, introduced a resolution requesting delegates to this Congress to urge the Legislatures of their respective States to follow the precedent so wisely established by Georgia in establishing a State Department of Agriculture. Adopted.

The affairs of the Direct Trade Union were discussed, and it was stated that while its working had not been altogether satisfactory, it had established the fact that it could be productive of great good in the Southern States.

Col. Johnson, of North Carolina, reported from a special committee, advocating the re-establishment of the State banking systems as peculiarly advantageous to the whole country, and asking Congress to relieve the tax upon State banks as a matter of justice and right.

A constitution and by-laws were adopted, making the election of officers biennial. Col. D. E. Butler, of Georgia, was re-elected President; Col. J. D. Whitford, of North Carolina, Secretary, and R. M. Sims, of South Carolina, Treasurer. Nashville was selected as the next place of meeting.

The Congress met again at 4 o'clock. A resolution was adopted urging the importance and absolute propriety of producing an abundance of all articles of prime necessity.

The committee on a proper basis to unite the commercial interests of the Southern and Western States said these States should be more closely united together, as the strongest ties of commercial interests existed by reason of their diversity of climate and soil, each producing the prime articles of domestic necessity required by the other.

A resolution was adopted requesting Congress to afford such aid as will insure the construction of three great trunk railway lines from Chicago to Morriston, Tenn., from St. Louis through Cumberland Gap, to Knoxville, and from Memphis to or near Atlanta, Ga.

The question of co-operation with the Rockdale Society of England was referred to the National Grange.

A BOLD SWINDLE.

How an Indiana Farmer Lost $1,800.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 14.—Barton Coffman, an old farmer living near here, was swindled out of $1,800 some days ago, the facts in the case having just come to light. Coffman has four sons in business at Carthage, Ill. A swindler posted himself in their family affairs and came to this county, visiting Coffman, and representing himself as Thos. Graham, a partner of the Coffmans at Carthage. Graham came to the city and purchased horses of Gates & Bay and others, agreeing to pay for them as soon as he could cash a draft on a Carthage (Ill.) bank. He went to Fletcher & Sharpe's bank, drew a check on the Hancock County National Bank at Carthage, Ill. The bank refused to cash it without identification and endorsement. Graham referred the bank to Mr. Coffman, who afterwards endorsed the draft. Graham secured the money and left. He is described as tall, of plausible appearance, dark hair, good complexion, right eye blind or contracted, and of good conversational powers.

THE WEATHER.

WAR DEPARTMENT,
OFFICE OF THE CHIEF SIGNAL OFFICER,
WASHINGTON, 1 A. M., July 15, 1875.

Probabilities for To-Day.

For the Middle and Eastern States, falling barometer, southeast to southwest winds, warmer, partly cloudy weather, and rain areas from Western Pennsylvania to the Middle Atlantic coast.

The lower Ohio and Mississippi, at and below Cairo, continue slowly rising.

The Proposed Hebrew College.

BUFFALO, July 14.—The Union of the American Hebrew Association held two sessions to-day. The greater part of the time was occupied in hearing and amending reports from various committees. The Board of Governors were instructed to admit students not studying for the ministry to the proposed college. Julius Rosenberg and Lazarus Silverman, of Chicago, each subscribed $1,000 toward the college fund. The delegates were feasted by the Temple Beth Zion congregation this evening.

Burned to Death.

LAWRENCE, Mass., July 14.—The Mayor of Tewksbury published a card claiming that the responsibility of the late riot rests with the floating population, drawn hither by the building of the new water works. The shanty used as a boarding house by the water works hands was burned this morning, and two of the seventy occupants burned to death.

Trial of the State Auditor of Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, July 14.—The trial of State Auditor Clinton, charged with misdemeanor in issuing warrants for thirty-four thousand dollars to Geo. W. Benham on the 29th of August, 1874, the same being unauthorized by law, commenced before the Superior Criminal Court this morning.

AQUATIC.

A Nice Little Game.

The boat clubs at St. Paul and at Stillwater, Minnesota, and friends are much exercised over the recent contest at Red Wing, in which a Stillwater four-oared crew and one of the best scullers of St. Paul were defeated. The stroke oar of the Red Wing crew and the man who beat the St. Paul single-rower was named Fox, but is said to be no other than Ellis Ward, of Newburg, N. Y., one of the famous Ward crew, and the same who contested the American single scull championship with George Brown, of Halifax. It is also claimed that another of the Red Wing crew was formerly a professional oarsman, though a resident there, while Fox, alias Ward, is not. The members of the St. Paul club have ascertained that Ward has been absent from home for three months, and have photographs of him, which singularly resemble the reputed Fox. In the wagers made on the races Red Wing won over $12,000 from Stillwater, and perhaps $2,000 from St. Paul.

The Cherry-Eating Lambs.

A correspondent of the West Chester Village Record writes: "You may inform the Pittsburghers that those lambs of Ellis Wood, West Bradford, not only eat the cherries and leaves of the lower branches of a cherry tree, while standing on a low shed roof, but run up on the wagon house twelve or fifteen feet high and a full ½ pitch, and eat the cherries and tender branches extending over the roof within their reach. And further a man told me that he found wool in another cherry tree up near the top, the tree being close alongside of Mr. Wood's kitchen shed, but my informant was not certain that the lambs were up in the top of this tree, as he only saw the wool, not the lambs, up there." It seems the correctness of a former statement had been questioned, and the foregoing is given to substantiate the same.

SECOND EDITION

SEASONABLE SPORTS.

The College Regatta.

The University Race.

The Cornell Crew the Victors.

A THRILLING ACCOUNT,

The Single Scull Race Won by Yale.

The College Regatta.

SARATOGA, July 14.—The University crews started at 12:04 P. M. At the half mile Cornell and Harvard had the lead, but at the first mile Harvard was ahead. At the second mile the colors of Cornell showed in advance, and Cornell won the race.

The position of the crews in the race are officially declared as follows: Cornell first, Columbia second, Harvard third, Dartmouth fourth, and Yale fifth. The remainder of the contesting crews came straggling in behind.

There was great enthusiasm over the Cornell crew. They were mounted on the shoulders of college mates, and carried back and forth before the grand stand amid enthusiastic demonstrations. The official time of the winning crew is 16 minutes 53¼ seconds.

The following is the official time of the crews in the University race: Cornell, 16 minutes 53¼ seconds; Columbia, 17 minutes 4½ seconds; Harvard, 17 minutes 5¾ seconds; Dartmouth, 17 minutes 10¾ seconds; Weslyan, 17 minutes 13¾ seconds; Yale, 17 minutes 14¾ seconds; Amherst, 17 minutes 29¾ seconds; Brown, 17 minutes 33¾ seconds; Williams, 17 minutes 43¾ seconds; Bowdoin, 17 minutes 50¾ seconds.

The time of Hamilton and Union was not taken. They were close behind, however. The Princeton crew turned back on the second mile, Parmley, No. 4, having fainted. He had a felon on his finger.

Another Account.

NEW YORK, July 14.—The New York Tribune's special correspondent at Saratoga gives the following graphic account of the University race: At 10:40 the signal gun boomed the word of command to the crews to gather at the starting line. The threatening breeze did not deter them, and they began slowly to centre at the rendezvous. That speck which appeared on the water just now, put forth its long legs with an instantaneous Darwinism, and grew from a dot to a line, and from a line to an arrow, was Bowdoin, her white cap rivaling those on which she rode. She was in line at 11, and waited for the more tardy contestants. Union soon made her appearance, pulling over from the south side of the hill. Cornell followed, pulling in good form, and now the object of eager attention since the victory of yesterday, which gave birth to predictions of another success. Brown now took her station by her flag, and Williams came next. Harvard was next in order, in the best of form. Princeton was the seventh boat to reach its place, while Hamilton, Amherst, Wesleyan and Columbia all preceded Yale. When this boat approached, the favorite of betters and sportsmen, and the pride of so many friends and foes, it was impossible to repress a cry of admiration. This might not be the winning crew. There might not be here the pluck or luck that secures victory, but this was

The Poetry of Motion.

The steady stroke, the rise and fall of the body, the rhythmic sweep of the oar, the perfect unity of the crew, made the entry of the Yale crew one of the epochs of the day. The six oars moved like one, and I dare say each heart beat like "sixty." Dartmouth was the last, though not the least, as the sequel showed, her big men hammering away at their short, quick stroke as usual. The gathering was worth a review. The half-naked boys, brown as Indians, were the flower of physical development of the American college. The muscles stood out full and firm as iron, and the beauty of the tanned backs and shoulders was enough to convince one that flesh color ought to be bronze. In each boat the six heads bend as if by a machine; the oars fly back; the long brown boats crouch like dogs held in leash, their noses thrust out; every cord is strung, waiting for the word to fly. At last they were ready. The antique gun missed fire, and Mr. Gunster, reduced to nature's signal, called out, "Are you ready?" A moment of dead silence and suspense, while each man counts three under his breath. "Then, go." They are shot like the arrow from a bow.

The Start

was made at 12:03½. The seventy-eight oars flashed at once, and in all the line not a boat missed its stroke. Harvard, according to its old tradition, gained the best start. The Cornell crew, the men of the hour, gained the next best, and pulled away neck and neck with Harvard. At first the difference was scarcely perceptible, but soon Cornell was seen to pass Williams on the extreme west of the line, and to have an apparent lead of everything on her side of the course. On the Snake hillside Harvard shot out, dropping Hamilton on one side and Union on the other, and it was not long before she had a lead on the Yale. The center boats were pretty well bunched. The green caps of the Dartmouth, and Browns and Wesleyan boats were well to the front.

At the One-half Mile Point

the positions of the crews were as follows: Cornell, Harvard, Dartmouth and Columbia in the front rank, with Yale, Wesleyan, Bowdoin, Brown and Amherst close up. Princeton and Williams were slightly behind these. Further back Union and Hamilton already had matters to themselves. The race at this point was fine, Harvard ahead, and Cornell pulling very cleanly about thirty-three strokes to the minute. Columbia at thirty-six was already showing her metal, and Dartmouth doing surpassingly well in the center. Harvard's peculiar stroke was noticeable, and notwithstanding a want of uniformity in the boat, there was a certain spirit and dash that augured well for a final triumph. Yale was rowing well together, and with the finish of a long trained crew, but the boat did not move as her partisans would have wished, and the perceptible pause at the end of each stroke seemed to settle the boat and stop her headway.

The First Disaster

of the race came to Yale, who fouled the first flag on her course, which may have contributed to set her back a little. Cornell pulled a steady and deliberate stroke, after the manner pursued by the Freshmen on the same water yesterday, and made astonishing headway with apparent ease; but Harvard had evidently set her mind on a good lead, and managed to keep it by an effort for a long distance. Columbia, too, began to draw up about the mile flag, and for a short time was second in the race according to the referee, though the Cornell bow does not think she was ahead of him at any time. The race now presented

A Remarkable Spectacle.

The first division of the flotilla included Harvard, Columbia, Cornell and Dartmouth. Then, after an interval, Yale and Wesleyan came on almost side by side, leading Brown, Amherst, Williams, Princeton, Bowdoin, Hamilton and Union, who made up the rear guard. Soon after the mile the latter were joined by Princeton, who fell to the rear. Looking at the race from the side, it had little regularity, but from the front and rear the boats, following their different lanes, were seen to be dotted regularly all across their course. The flags were working to perfection. Few boats had any trouble with them. Yale was delayed a little, if any, by her foul, and Brown makes no complaint, though it was thought at one time that she had struck a flag in passing near the middle of the course.

Striving for the Lead.

All dashed prosperously and proudly up the course, striving with every atom of skill and strength for the lead, but there was little change in the relative positions after the first half mile. The crews which took the lead retained it, and the crews which first fell to the rear only dropped farther and farther back as the van swept onward up to the mile and a half. The boats and men stood the terrible strain bravely. The crimson was still ahead, Columbia, perhaps, next, and Cornell third, though the difference between the three boats was but a few feet, and precedence was hard to decide with such a lateral distance as stretched between Columbia in the middle of the line and Harvard and Cornell almost at the two extremes. The difference between the three was not over half a boat's length. Dartmouth held her own and was pressing the leaders hard. Always making a fine appearance in a race, Dartmouth was as they sped away down the course, pulling with amazing vigor. Their green caps picked them out easily from the field, if the observer failed to recognize the magnificent physique of the men. Dartmouth was one of the grand surprises of the race. Yale, alas, was soon to be the other. There was Yale hanging on the flank of Dartmouth, in perfect form, the graceful, easy stroke after stroke falling with absolute perfection, every detail complete, a most beautiful sight. But how was it that Dartmouth, the unscientific and derided, kept that length or so ahead? An ominous question still. Yale's partisans were not discouraged. Yale has pulled a waiting race always, they reasoned. The advantage of Cornell was becoming somewhat alarming, five or six lengths at least; but wait till Bob Cook lets himself out on the last mile. Then you'll see. Comfort! the doubler of the blue—on they come, and the mighty form of Gulliverian Rodger marked their nearest competitor as Wesleyan. Brown, Amherst, Williams, Princeton and Bowdoin followed Union and Hamilton still madly contesting the rear position. Between the mile and a half to the two mile flags are badly needed. Help came to the Union and Hamilton in the shape of disaster to some others ahead of them.

Princeton's Misfortune.

For a mile and a half Princeton kept a decent position. At this point she lagged perceptibly, and it was remarked on board the referee's boat that she was likely to take a low position. Mr. Nicoll, the Captain, noticing the sudden drag of his boat, turned and observed that Mr. George Parmly, of New York, who pulled No. 4, was staring straight before him, with a fixed look, and worked feebly at his oar. Nicoll had hardly called to him "For Heaven's sake, Parmly, what's the matter?" before Parmly dropped his oar and fell back, sick and fainting, without a reply, into the arms of Mr. Van Lenep, behind him. The reward of a long period of labor and abstinence vanished in a moment, the life went out of the boat, and she fell mournfully out of the race, a log on the surface of the lake. The misfortunes of Brown and Yale were less serious, consisting of "crabs," though these animals are by no means a joke in a boat race. The Brown men up to the mile and three-quarters were well forward in the division behind Yale and Wesleyan, but ahead of Princeton, Bowdoin, Hamilton, Union, Amherst and Williams. At this point, however, Bradbury, No. 2, and Williams, Amherst and Bowdoin went by them flying. The Brown crew now put on a spurt, and carried them ahead of Bowdoin and Williams, one place back of the old position in the exact middle of the race, while Amherst managed to hold on in spite of terrible suffering on the part of Goodnow, the stroke, who was severely ill. The eighth position Brown managed to hold to the finish, in spite of another misfortune, consisting of a broken stretcher at No. 4, which prevented Mr. Roper from doing much on the finish. Williams and Yale caught two crabs apiece about here, and Wesleyan struck down a flag without doing herself much harm. These accidents changed the face of things at the rear considerably. In front, Cornell, by a remarkably quick dash, made without any apparent extra effort, had drawn ahead of Harvard and Columbia, so that she had clear water, and the other two were left to struggle desperately with one another.

Caught a Crab,

The Final Struggle.

Wesleyan was pulling up very fast here, and Dartmouth looked as if she could keep on at the same pace for a week without difficulty.

Now was the time for Cook to be heard from. Cornell was gaining more and more, and the most effective spurt, not to be useless, must come soon. Cook says he did call for it, but it did not come. The boat moved up a little on Dartmouth, but seemed to drag in a discouraged way, and it was plain before the two and a half mile flag was reached that Yale was a beaten boat. At two miles and a half Cornell had a lead of several lengths, which had been obtained without quickening their stroke and apparently without extra effort. As the seventh and eighth men crossed the last half mile line the usual hoarse roar greeted them from the grand stand and sent into every oarsman's veins. Cornell put in a hard stroke, not exactly a spurt, but which had the same effect. Harvard, though plainly tired, answered to the spurt, but Columbia, throwing every pound upon her gilded oar blades, made a superb spurt and opened between Harvard and herself a gap which separated her by a hair's breadth from Cornell. Within five lengths of the line a crab was captured on the port side of the boat, which made her tremble from prow to rudder, and she stopped almost short. Harvard gained a good length. It was a perilous splash, dash and flounder with Columbia for a moment as Harvard swung up, but she gathered herself bravely together, and after a few strokes on five legs, the boat caught the swing again, and just swooped over in time, a second and a half ahead of the crimson.

The Single Scull

race was won by Yale by six lengths. James Watson, umpire, makes the official announcement of the time in this race two miles: First, Julian Kennedy, time 14 minutes 21½ seconds; second, W. F. Weld, time 14 minutes 50 seconds.

Rejoicing Over Cornell's Victory.

ITHICA, N. Y., July 14.—The news of Cornell's second and greatest victory has arrived, and occasioned much intense enthusiasm here. Fire bells and other bells are ringing, the University chimes pealing, bombs and fire crackers exploding, guns firing, and the business places and private buildings are festooned with National and University colors, and bands are parading the streets. Dispatches have been sent to the crews to come here before dispersing for their homes.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Fifty-seven members of the Cornell Alumni Association, of this city, unite in sending the following dispatch to the Captain of the victorious University crews: "Once again we send you our congratulations. May the laurels which you now wear ever be worn by those who succeed you, and brighten rather than fade by the lapse of time."

The Races at Toledo.

TOLEDO, Ohio, July 14.—Toledo Driving Park Association, second day. First race, 3:30 class, purse $400; eight entries, three started. Mistress 1, 1, 1; Joe 2, 2, 2; Julia B. 3, 3, 3. Time 3:16, 3:05 and 3:13.

Second race, 2:35 class, purse $800; five entries; four started. Sand Hill 2, 3, 1, 1, 1; Anglo-Saxon 4, 1, 2, 2, 2; Dan Howell 1, 2, 3, 3, 3; Frank 3, 4, 4, 4, 4. Time 2:39, 2:38¼, 2:39¾, 2:40 and 2:43¾.

The Ocean Races Declared Off.

CAPE MAY, July 14.—The races are declared off. Neither the sweepstake nor steam yacht race will be sailed. A number of vessels have left. The weather is very hot, with a thick haze over the sea and no wind.

Base Ball.

CINCINNATI, July 14.—St. Louis Reds, 5; Ludlows, 7.

BOSTON, July 14.—Bostons, 8; Chicagos, 7.

NEW YORK, July 14.—St. Louis Browns, 2; Atlantics, 1. The Browns scored one in the first inning and one in the third. The Atlantics scored their only run in the second inning.

Mountain Meadow Massacre.

One of the Prisoners Turns State's Evidence.

A Full Account of the Slaughter Promised.

BEAVER, Utah, July 14.—The trials of Lee and Dame were set for the 19th instant, the prosecution to elect which one shall be tried first. Judge Boreman is determined to have the cases disposed of without unnecessary delay. Some very important witnesses for the prosecution, who it was thought could not be found, are in town, and the principal witness, Klingen Smith, will be here to-morrow, in charge of a marshal.

Later.—John D. Lee has turned State's evidence, and will be a witness for the prosecution and make a statement of all he knows of the Mountain Meadow massacre. The cause is said to be that he believes he was to be sacrificed to appease the wrath of the Government and shield more guilty parties by perjury, if necessary. There is a strong feeling in favor of Dame on the part of the people from Southern Utah, who are here as witnesses and to be present at the time. Many of them were concerned in the massacre, and they evince great animosity toward Lee. Bishop Hoyt and Spicer, counsel for Lee, have advised him to tell the whole story. They believe it to be the only way to save their client as well as to give to the world the whole particulars of this bloody affair. It is said by those most closely connected with the trial that there are plenty of witnesses here to corroborate all of Lee's statement, which will convict W. H. Dame, many other high Morman authorities, and explain fully everything connected with the massacre.

The witnesses are some who actually took part in it and some who attended a meeting of the participants after their return from the field of slaughter. The officers have had the greatest difficulty in getting the witnesses for the defense. Quite a number have positively refused and defied the Marshal, while all those in Dame's behalf are present, which is attributed to the fact that Dame is a Mormon in full fellowship, and Lee is not.

The Rev. G. W. Cranage, a prominent Methodist clergyman, thus relates his experience:

PITTSBURGH, PA., September 8, 1873.

I had been suffering from Dysentery nearly all summer, and it seemed impossible to get any permanent relief, although I had been under the care of several eminent physicians. At the urgent solicitation of a friend, I was finally induced to try DR. HARRIS' SUMMER CORDIAL, but confess that I had but little faith in such a simple remedy, as I supposed it was intended more especially for children. To my surprise, the first dose gave immediate relief, and less than a bottle of the Cordial affected a permanent cure. It is impossible to express my full appreciation of so valuable a medicine.

The Menagerie and Circus.

Smoky Island will be an attraction to day, but there is a permanent attraction, which is an institution of Allegheny, Pa., where profit is the main feature in the attraction. Need we mention that R. Taggart, No. 129 Federal street, has the most select, elegant and handsome, as well as the cheapest assortment of boots and shoes in the two cities? Every man, woman and child can make money by purchasing from Taggart. Go and see him.

A. M. E. ZION CONFERENCE.

Considering the Temperance Question—The Church in its Relations to the Politics of the Country—Pecuniary Gifts—General Items.

At the Conference meeting held Tuesday evening Bishop Moore presided, assisted by Bishop Clinton. The Committee on Temperance reported. After some discussion, particularly in reference to the wording of the report, it was adopted. The Committee on Holy Orders reported Ambrose Gatewood unqualified for Local Deacon's Orders. Report approved. Reported Solomon T. Whiton and Gideon Hughes qualified, and recommended for Deacon's orders. The report in the case of Wm. Fleming was subsequently recommitted to the Committee on Holy Orders.

Professor Day, from the Committee on the State of the Country, reported, and report adopted. The report, which was listened to with deep interest, and at times applauded, referred to the general advance of public sentiment in the country, but instanced the following as hindrances to the progress of this and other churches: 1. The effort of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, to claim, and in several cases, to secure our own property, which during the days of slavery we paid for. 2. The action of the Grangers in their meetings in setting the price of work for colored citizens, (usually ten dollers per month), while to other workmen higher wages are given. Connected with this is the unanimous agreement among the rebel farmers to pay only a certain price as wages, most of which must be taken in store orders. In many cases, therefore, the alternative presented to our people is—either work at this disadvantage or starve. While we are not unduly occupied in political matters, we are constrained to regard this state of things as most oppressive and dangerous, appealing in the strongest manner to the State and General Goverments that they protect their wards, the citizens, and see that in these as well as in other respects, justice is administered to them. We therefore thank President Grant for his firmness hitherto in this respect. Especially also do we tender our thanks to Congress for the passage of the bill to protect Civil Rights. That such a bill should be necessary in this age and in this enlightened country, is a sad commentary upon our American professions; but that it is necessary, is every day evinced. Since the passage of the bill, and within a few weeks, our well-beloved and venerable Bishop, John J. Moore, respected for his Christian character and courtesy, his literary acquirement and his devotion to the Church of Christ, was dragged from his seat and thrust out of the cars into the smoking car, at Greensboro, North Carolina, simply because of his color. We hold that this outrage reaches us all, and we recommend wise measures under the existing laws to protect our rights. We therefore recommend the election of a committee of three members of this Conference to see if any further action than already taken in behalf of our Bishop's rights be necessary.

The report notices the remedies for the outrages perpetrated in various ways, and among other plans to meet these difficulties, recommends acquisition of land at home in the South, but especially in our west.

The report is signed by M. M. Bell, Chairman; Wm. Howard Day, Secretary; James Ross and H. M. Wilson.

Elder C. E. Pipkins presented to the Conference a valuable gift of two lots at Gamble's Hill, with $2,000 attached to one and $1,000 to the other, for church and school purposes, all presented by Mr. George Gamble. The offer was received with thanks, and a committee consisting of J. E. Price, Wm. Howard Day and C. E. Pipkins were appointed to draft an expression of the grateful feelings of the Conference.

The Ladies' Industrial Society, represented by Miss Josie Hutchinson, President, and Miss Mary Graham, Secretary, and introduced by B. F. Pulpress, presented to the Conference the sum of thirty-five dollars; the "Daughters of Bishop," Mrs. L. A. Williamson, President, and Mrs. Smith, Secretary, and introduced by B. F. Pulpress, Esq., presented to the Conference the sum of ten dollars, and to each of the Bishops present one dollar each. The Daughters of Conference of John Wesley Church, Pittsburgh, with Mrs. J. Price, President; Mrs. Letitia Harris, Secretary; Lucinda Maloy, Treasurer; Mrs. Mary Lewis, Assistant Secretary, and introduced by Bro. James Carter, presented to the Conference, the sum of twenty-three dollars.

On motion separate votes of thanks were given to each Society, the members of Conference rising when they were introduced, and Bishop Clinton and Professor Day delivering elaborate addresses, which were listened to with the deepest interest. Benediction by Bishop Clinton.

Seventh Day's Session.

Conference assembled at 9 o'clock, Bishop Moore presiding, Bishop Clinton also present. Bishop Moore read the 62d chapter of Isaiah, which was followed with singing and prayer by Elder James Ross.

On motion of Rev. J. W. Tirry, Conference voted to take up the report of the Committee on Holy Orders in the case of Wm. Fleming, and subsequently it was recommitted and again reported, recommending that Mr. Fleming continue to occupy his present relation. Adopted.

The Committee on Bishop's Salary made a report, which, after considerable discussion, was adopted. This committee was empowered to raise and settle for the amount due at the time of the Philadelphia and Baltimore Annual Conference.

The Committee on Book Concern reported through Prof. Day, and after full discussion the report was adopted by the Conference and sustained by the Bishops present. An auxiliary committee was recommended, as also a reference of the whole matter by clerical and lay delegates to the General Conference, and the selection of Rev. John E. Price, pastor, Mission church, Allegheny City, as auxiliary Book Steward for this Conference year.

Professor Day, from the committee to prepare resolutions expressing the grateful thanks of the Conference for the gift of land and money by George Gamble, Esq., reported. Report unanimously adopted;—a copy of the resolutions to be conveyed to Wm. Gamble by Rev. C. E. Pipkins, through whom the offer was made to the Conference.

The pressing needs of the church at West Harrisburg being stated by Prof. Day, a resolution was adopted pledging aid by September 1st, 1876.

A committee, consisting of J. E. Price, Wm. Howard Day and ————, were appointed to nominate officers for the Church Extension Board.

A resolution was adopted endorsing the American Centennial, and endorsing the action of the Philadelphia and Baltimore Annual Conference, in providing for a Centennial Oration or Sermon by Professor Howard Day, giving the history of this connection and its prominent workers, in the Philadelphia Church, Lombard street, in 1876.

Conference, on motion of Rev. N. H. Williams, endorsed the action of the New York Conference in requesting the Senior Bishop, Rev. J. J. Clinton, to prepare a commentary on the Discipline.

Bishop Moore gave valuable advice to the younger members.

Financial matters occupied the attention of the Conference until adjournment. Benediction by Bishop Clinton.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At 3½ o'clock the ordination of S. F. Whiton as Deacon, and Rev. John Fiddler and M. W. L. Knox as Elders, took place, Bishop Clinton assisting Bishop Moore. Bishop Moore read the 4th chapter of 2nd Timothy, when prayer was offered and sermon preached by Rev. J. W. Tirry.

These solemn exercises over, Conference resumed its business session, and considered statistics and missions.

Adjourned.

THE COURT RECORD.

A Complete Report of the Proceedings in the Courts Yesterday.

United States District Court.

(Before Judge McCandless.)

Hilands & King, bankrupts, Allegheny county. Assignee's report of the sale of certain real estate presented and confirmed, subject to exceptions within ten days, then, if no exceptions, to be confirmed absolutely.

Thos. S. Hutchinson vs. Samuel Cable, McKeesport. On motion of Morton Hunter, Esq., solicitor for petitioning creditor, leave granted to discontinue proceedings.

Jacob Glosser, bankrupt, Pittsburgh. Assignee's report of the sale of cetain personal property, presented and confirmed absolutely.

R. K. Armstrong, bankrupt, Westmoreland county. Assignee, on motion, ordered to join with bankrupt in the conveyance of the estate to Samuel Riddle in order to carry out the provisions of composition.

Hecklemen & Co., bankrupts, Allegheny City. Argument was had on the exceptions filed in the Register's report on the petition of Peter Schatz, a creditor, for the ascertainment and liquidation of his alleged lien.

Proceedings were brought yesterday to throw into bankruptcy Wm. A. Mechling, late of the wholesale liquor firm of Littell & Mechling. The parties bringing the proceedings are Kenneth McIntosh and John W. McGregor, receivers of the International Bank of this city, and William A. Clemens, cashier of the Allegheny Real Estate Bank. Mr. Mechling was the President of the International bank, and the papers in the proceedings assert that he owes the two banks above named $10,497.14. The usual order was made directing Mr. Mechling to appear on the 29th inst. and show cause why he should not be declared a bankrupt.

John A. Martin, grocer, at 50 Ohio street, Allegheny, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy yesterday. The failure is a small one, Mr. Martin's liabilities being about $3,000 and his assets $1,500.

Andrew Ackley vs. the steam tug "Little Giant" in admiralty. Commissioner Patterson filed his report, distributing the fund in the registry of the Court. Confirmed, subject to exceptions.

Jas. F. Ryan vs. steam tug "Kangaroo," Libel in a case of contract for hardward, &c., filed, and a order made for the seizure of said vessel, returnable August 2d prox.

George Wincher, bankrupt, Pittsburgh. Thos. A. Christy, of Pittsburgh, having been chosen assignee by the creditors, the same was approved.

Amos Belcher, Allegheny City, bankrupt. On petition of the assignee, an order was made for the sale of certain real estate, subject to the mortgage of Isaac M. Pennock.

A. Ortleib & Co., Allegheny City, bankrupts. Petition of John Stierheim presented, praying for an order on the assignee directing him to sell a certain lease-hold, subject to the claim of S. P. Lang, and an order was made referring the same to Register Shafer for examination, and to report the facts, and what action should be taken in order to secure the rights of all the parties.

M. J. Bombaugh, bankrupt. Report of sales of certain real estate referred to Register Harper, and a distribution of the proceeds among lien creditors ordered.

Otto Hensel, bankrupt. Assignee's report of certain book accounts presented, and the assignee directed to assign the same to the purchaser.

AN ANSWER FILED.

Mr. M. G. Frank, against whom a bill in equity was filed a few days ago by John C. Gray, filed an answer to the paper through his attorney, John Barton, Esq., yesterday. The allegations as set forth in the plaintiff's petition are denied, and it is set forth in the answer that referees were appointed to examine the accounts of each party, which resulted in a decision in favor of the plaintiff for the sum of $79.63. Not being satisfied with this, a second award was made, and the defendant, on being recommended to do so, paid over $2.65 for final settlement. The plaintiff being still dissatisfied, applied to the church and had another committee appointed, which affirmed the former decision. The defendant claims that the plaintiff is indebted to him in the sum of eighty-eight dollars and ninety cents, and asks for a decree against the plaintiff for the same.

SUIT AGAINST THE CITY.

An action for damages was brought against the city of Pittsburgh yesterday by Elmira Bricker, who resides at No. 54 Kerr street, Allegheny, through her counsel, Mr. John Barton. In the petition it is set forth that the plaintiff was walking on High street, Thirty-second ward, on the 14th day of June, 1875, and that in stepping on one of the boards of the sidewalk it tilted up, causing her to fall, from the effects of which she has suffered greatly. The plaintiff avers that her right leg was severely injured and sprained at the ankle and knee and asks damages as follows: For medicine and conveyance home at the time of the accident, $19; doctors bill, $20; permanent injury, at least $1,000. A summons was issued.

COURT BREVITIES.

Robert McChesney who is charged with retailing liquor without the payment of the special tax, appeared before United States Commissioner Gamble yesterday and gave bail in the sum of $500 for a hearing at the next term of the United States Court.

The Orphans Court, Judge Hawkins on the bench, was in session yesterday in Judge Kirkpatrick's room, of the Common Pleas Court No. 2. The Court was engaged in disposing of the audit list.

The papers were filed yesterday in the Smoky Island case, which is to be taken to the Supreme Court.

Commissioner Gamble has been engaged for the last two or three days in taking testimony in a patent case, in which Jas. Howard is plaintiff and Robert Christy appears for the respondent. The patent is for the manufacture of certain roofing material, and the respondent says that it has been in use long before the patent was granted, and claims that it has therefore become public property. Mr. Howard alleges that his invention was completed as early as 1845, but he did not procure a patent on the same until 1869.

In the case of David Hall, convicted of permitting a gambling house to be maintained on his premises, sentence was suspended, as it was stated that the defendant shows substantial evidence of a desire to reform.

The Court ordered the recognizance to be forfeited in the case of Wm. Lindsay, who had been convicted of perjury on oath of Fathey McAfee. The defendant failed to put in an appearance for sentence.

In the Common Pleas Court No. 2 yesterday the People's Insurance Company of Pittsburgh filed a bill in equity against Dunlevy & Bro. assignees of J. P. Dunlevy, J. B. Conway and M. Kearney. It appears by the affidavit that the plaintiff insured the steamboat "Esperanza," which was afterwards destroyed by fire. Some changes took place in the ownership of the vessel, and the action is taken to determine who is entitled to the insurance money.

In the same court yesterday John Neihel and Catharine, his wife, commenced suit against John Schanber to recover damages for alleged slander. A capias was issued.

R. H. Lindsay writes us a note alleging the incorrectness of the item in yesterday's Chronicle which states that he had skipped. He says he was prevented by sickness from appearing for sentence.

THE NEW GERMAN CHURCH.

Corner Stone Laying Next Sunday—Form and Route of Procession—Imposing Ceremonies.

The corner stone of the new German Evangelical Lutheran church, now in course of erection at the intersection of Sixth avenue and Smithfield street, will be laid on Sunday afternoon next, with imposing ceremonies succeeding a procession which will form on Grant street, where the congregation is now worshiping. The procession will organize as follows:

Chief Marshal—Peter Dressler.

Assistants—Jno. Seiferth, Frederick Wilhelm, Henry Ommerst and Henry Colwes.

Music. The American Protestant Association Lodges of this district. Singing societies and church choirs. Pastors of the various German congregations of this vicinity and members of the Building Committee in carriages. Music. Temperanceville organizations. Union Cornet Band. School children of the Smithfield street church followed by the trustees, members and children of other German congregations. Carriages, buggies, &c.

The route of the procession, which will start promptly at two o'clock, from the church now being used, at the corner of Grant street and Sixth avenue, will be as follows. Along Grant street to Second avenue, thence to Smithfield, along Smithfield to Fifth avenue, down Fifth to Market street, along Market and Sixth (St. Clair) streets to Penn avenue, along Penn to Tenth street, thence to Liberty, down Liberty to Smithfield and along Smithfield to the place where the exercises are to be held.

The programme to be observed has not yet been completed, but will consist in part of addresses in German by a number of ministers and singing by the various societies and choirs. Rev. Mr. Kaemmerer, who laid the corner stone of the old church in on the 2d of July, 1833, will also be present and assist. An address in English will be delivered by Rev. Scovel, of the First Presbyterian church.

The stone will be laid on the corner where Sixth avenue and Smithfield street intersect. A large copper box, sixteen inches long, twelve wide and ten deep, has been manufactured, and will be filled with the contents of the old corner stone, and such other articles as are used upon similar occasions. The pastors, teachers, members and school children of all other German congregations in the city are invited to participate in the ceremonies.

A PERSONAL ENCOUNTER.

Cow-Hiding Transaction on Smithfield Street Yesterday Afternoon — Mr. Bartheld Versus Mr. Backofen.

An exciting affair, of a character which the press of Pittsburgh is not often called upon to note, occurred yesterday afternoon at the store of Mr. George W. Backofen, on Smithfield street, between Sixth and Seventh avenues, and the gentleman named was unfortunate enough to be one of the interested parties. The circumstances connected with the difficulty, as gleaned by our reporter, are as follows: It appears that some time ago Mr. William Bartheld, a saloon-keeper on Penn avenue, near the Mercantile Library building, purchased a lot of goods from Mr. Backofen. He alleges that during the first week of June a collector presented him with a bill of the purchase, which he then paid and took a receipt. On Tuesday he received the bill again, but knowing that he had paid it, he gave the receipt to his son, a lad some fourteen years of age, and directed him to take it to Mr. Backofen and tell him that the debt had already been satisfied. The boy did as he was told, and was about to exhibit the receipt when, according to his story, he was interrupted by Mr. Backofen, who said the bill had not been paid, and, it is averred, used language derogatory to the fair name and character of Mr. Bartheld. The lad departed from the establishment and went home, but upon being interrogated by his father as to what Mr. Backofen had said he persistently refused to tell. It was not until yesterday morning that he made his father acquainted with the tenor of Mr. Backofen's remarks, and when the father had heard the story to the end he got mad. He posted right off to a gent's furnishing store and invested two dollars in a cow-hide. In the afternoon he visited Mr. Backofen at his place of business and undertook to make use of the cow-hide. During the progress of the affair, which attracted considerable attention from the street, an employe in the store got between the two busy B.'s in an endeavor to separate them, when Mr. Bartheld took the slender end of the cow-hide in his hand, and with the butt end of it struck Mr. Backofen a very severe blow across the top of the head, raising an ugly welt. The latter subsequently went before Mayor McCarthy and made an information against Mr. Bartheld for surety of the peace. The accused was arrested and gave bail for a hearing at nine o'clock this morning.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 114⅞.

FAVORABLE replies have been received to letters addressed the authorities of Alabama, Louisiana, South Carolina and Mississippi by the Centennial Committees; and it is expected that the South will generally participate in the great event.

THE Democratic State Committee of Missouri want the next National Convention of that party held at St. Louis. They state that the new Merchants' Exchange in that city will seat fifteen thousand persons, and that the Democracy of the State will foot all the bills. Why don't the Pennsylvania Democracy sail in? It's a free fight.

THE Legislative Committee of Investigation into the affairs of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Company held a meeting yesterday, at the Girard House, Philadelphia, all the members present. The retail coal dealers charge a violation of their charter upon the above named company, in monopolizing and controlling the markets.

WATTERSON AND PRESTON, the two Southern unreconstructed orators, who have lately been giving slight exhibitions of their love for the "lost cause" on the Southern stump, have quietly been assigned back seats by the leaders and the organs. They should know better than to expose the animus of Southern Democracy on the eve of an important election.

PETER B. SWEENEY—one of the famous New York ring—who absconded some time ago, and against whom there is a modest claim of $700,000 standing, for his share in the Court House rake, has signified his intention to return and stand a trial, provided his bail is lowered to $150,000. The District Attorney—Mr. Peckham—has assented to this, and now the public await Peter's return.

IN the University race yesterday, at Saratoga, the Cornell crew came in first, leading all the way, closely followed by Columbia second, Harvard third, Dartmouth fourth and Yale fifth. The official time of the winning crew as given, is sixteen minutes and fifty-three and a quarter seconds. The New Yorkers, very much elated over the success of their favorite College crew, picked the boys up and carried them around on their shoulders, amid great cheering and enthusiasm.

THE story of wonderful discoveries of mountains of gold in the Black Hills country have at last been entirely exploded, and later reports talk of the yield being about a half to three-quarters of a cent to the panful, and even this is doubtful. The Chicago Inter-Ocean has at last yielded to the bulk of testimony, and states that hereafter it will publish all the information received from reliable quarters, leaving its readers to form their own conclusions. Hitherto that paper has been foremost in sending out the fabulous stories.

WHY don't the Post take back its misstatement of the facts about the late riot in Vicksburg. It denied that it was anything more than a fight among colored men, and stated that no whites were concerned in it, when we showed from its own columns that it spoke falsely. Since then it has remained as dumb as an oyster.

"Why don't it answer? Simply because it is too cowardly to acknowledge its low-flung insinuations."

"We regret to observe a disposition on the part of our cotemporary to resort to untruth as the election approaches." Take care of the beam in thine own eye, neighbor.

EX-SECRETARY McCULLOCH, in his last letter on national finances, thinks the reason our bonds abroad are not above par is that some of the States have not kept perfect faith with their creditors. But how does it come that United States bonds are quoted higher at Frankfort than British consols are at London, or French rentes are at Paris? The people abroad, who have money to interest in foreign securities, are surely not so ignorant as not to know the difference between a State loan and a National bond; while the former ought to be perfectly good at all times, yet surely they ought not to affect the soundness of the latter, even if open repudiation took place.

MR. THURLOW WEED publishes a letter in the New York Tribune, in which he relates some of the most important events in his trip to England at the outbreak of the war, as the confidential agent of Secretary Seward. He explains fully the hitherto unknown fact, that in the course of the Mason and Slidell affair the Queen insisted upon several material modifications of Lord Palmerston's dispatch demanding their surrender, which in all probability prevented war between England and this country. He also relates how, in other ways, the Queen showed her determination to have no war with the United States, and to what extent she exerted herself to maintain peace.

THE new Spanish Constitution provides that the Senate shall consist of 300 members, and the Chamber of Deputies have one representavive for each 50,000 of the population, making it consist of something less than 400 members. The King is given the veto power, and retains the right to dissolve the Chambers, but must convoke new bodies within three months. He appoints the President of the Senate, and otherwise has authority to retain those friendly to the throne. Arrests must be followed by prompt trial, and banishment is prohibited. In all respects the principles of a liberal Constitutional Government are adhered to, and religious liberty is guaranteed. If King Alphonso shall now be successful in putting an end to the Carlist insurrection, of which the latest intelligence gives good promise, and is fortunate enough to call around him honest, discreet, and patriotic advisers, with the establishment of this liberal Constitution, an era of advanced prosperity may begin, which will raise Spain from the degraded rank she has so long held by reason of her intense religious bigotry and intolerance, and place her in a position where she can throttle the first symptoms of a revolt. Much depends upon the material with which he surrounds his throne, as Spanish honor holds but a small store of patriotism, and the youthful King has not held power long enough to create strong personal ties. If a few heroes and statesmen like Castellar shall be brought to the front, we will have good hopes of the formation of a stable and enlightened Government.

THE first bales of this season's cotton crop are expected at New Orleans this week from the Rio Grande. Last year's first arrival was on the 13th of this month. The first shipment of Mississippi valley cotton will not occur for a month yet, being a little late this year. All accounts agree that the crop will be extraordinarily full, and the acreage much larger than any planted since the war. Indeed, if nothing happens, the South will harvest a better and larger crop of its staples, including wheat and corn, than has been its good fortune to do for twenty years. This ought to add vastly to her wealth, and will do so, without doubt, placing her people in better condition, financially, than they have found themselves since the war.

ALL the information from Europe points to a short crop there, and a strong likelihood of every bushel of our surplus being wanted for export, and at good prices. The London market has again advanced for wheat, and we are told by the Mark Lane Express that all hope for a crop this year equal to that of last, has been given up. The rise in the price of wheat, which has already taken place, is from one to two shillings per bushel, and the same is true of the market in France, where the crops have been seriously damaged by the recent floods. Everything points to a lively grain market this Fall and Winter, and a large export demand. These will have an important bearing on the entire business affairs of the country, which induce hopes of improvement, if not great activity.

MURDER and other crimes are becoming so frequent and flagrant in New York, that the World, in a double leaded editorial, calls for the organization of a Vigilance Committee, unless security is given to a greater degree than of late. It says:—"Security of life and property in broad daylight at least, is the first essential condition of civilized society. If these are not to be obtained in New York without a Vigilance Committee, how long will it be before a Vigilance Committee goes to work in New York to obtain them? And what stands in the way of obtaining them today in New York but a worthless, cowardly, corrupt, and in every practical aspect contemptible organization of the police force of New York?" And Democratic at that.

THE Scientific American publishes a long article on the Keely motor, denouncing it as a deception, and compares it with the spirit moter said to have been discovered by Dr. Wm. Crookes, in London, in 1871. We quote from the article as follows:

"Keely blows from his lungs, for a period of thirty seconds, into a nozzle upon the generator. He connects the same nozzle, by means of a small rubber tube, with the hydrant, and lets in 5 gallons of water under a pressure of 26 pounds to the inch, then shuts off the water. He opens the valve of a pipe of one-tenth of an inch bore, between the generator and a gauge or pressure-indicator; and lo! the gauge indicates 10,000 pounds to the square inch."

"Such, in sum and substance, is the Keely motor, as set forth by the learned counsel of the company, corroborated by various mechanical experts, in the statements they have now freely prepared for the especial benefit and enlightenment of the readers of the Scientific American; corroborated, also, by scores of other intelligent persons, so Mr. Collier assures us."

"The majority of our readers will doubtless conclude with us that, on the showing of the parties themselves, the whole thing must be classed as a second-rate juggle,—a mechanical Katie King arrangement, too contemptible for serious consideration."

This is about the reception all new important discoveries meet with; but time develops their genuineness and efficacy, if they are entitled to them, quite as promptly and well as if no adverse criticism were uttered. If the new motor is all that is claimed for it, the frowns of the incredulous will not keep it down.

PROF. MARSH, of Yale College, has written another letter addressed to the President, wherein he sets forth his belief in the existence of extensive frauds in the Indian Department of the Government. He claims to know these things, having been personally made aware of them through observation and conversation with Red Cloud and other Indian chiefs. Every opportunity should be given for the most thorough and searching investigation into these and other charges brought against this important department of the public service. We believe such an opportunity will be afforded, and Prof. Marsh and others claiming to know of fraudulent transactions, will be given a hearing. The Government will, doubtless, take prompt and efficient action, so soon as it shall be made to appear that peculation or other rascally work has been going on.

There is probably the largest field for fraud in the matter of these Indian supplies, and the system, as now carried on by the Interior Department, is no doubt open to serious objection. So much depends upon the faithful performance of our part of the treaties with the Indians, that this branch of the service should be entrusted only to reliable and in every way trustworthy hands. Bad men, doubtless, will creep into positions here, as well as elsewhere; but all considerations—our peace and welfare, justice to the red man, safety of life and property on the border—all call for a rigid scrutiny, and a fearless weeding out of all who are unworthy, from highest to lowest.

CORPORATIONS.

The crudities and contradictions so interwoven in our new Constitution among the many good things there, appear to find their counterpart in the instrument, the Constitution-makers in Missouri are at present at work on. It is pronounced to be "almost perfect as an embodiment of all possible errors and absurdities," and in the opinion of the best judges will stand no chance of adoption by the people. An instance of its attempt to show up the beauties of the millenium is its effort to crush out the body and soul of every corporation in the State, viewing these, evidently, as a nest of public and private cormorants, which are engaged in eating up the vitals of the people. In our experience we have been taught, that while such institutions as corporations for the development of the material wealth of the country should be properly surrounded by wholesome but just restrictions, public and private policy both demand that nothing should be done to impair their great usefulness, or what is worse, inaugurate such a system of unfair limitations and restraints, as would tend to drive them all into early liquidation, if not bankruptcy. What are corporations after all except capital personified, and placed in such form as to do the utmost good. Great undertakings, such as the building of railroads, canals, bridges, elevators, telegraph lines, and similar public works, could not be executed by private capital in the ordinary way of partnerships. A limited liability—in such cases—becomes a necessity, as few sensible persons would risk all their means in any one undertaking—particularly where its conduct was placed beyond their oversight or control. Hence the combining together of capital with a liability limited to the amount of cash subscribed, is a necessity, and this is the essence of a corporation.

Some persons insanely imagine that a corporation is entitled to less consideration than an individual, giving as their reason or excuse, the trite saying that "they have no souls." Granted, but the same law governs and limits them that applies to the citizen, and their organization represents many—in most instances—instead of one or two individuals. It is the individual, after all, although in another form. Now, if we take the case of railroads, banks, insurance companies and the like, we will find that large quantities of their stock are held by trust companies for widows and orphan children; and these, then, form to a large degree the parties interested in the "soulless" corporations. Are they to be abused, and their investments to be unjustly and partially dealt with? Are their rights and the rights of all stockholders not as inviolate and as sacred in the view of justice and honor as the rights of the individual? And yet it would seem that these thoughts never occurred to some of our people, nor to some of the Constitution-makers of Missouri.

One other view: If corporations, such as we have named, are soulless, and unworthy of receiving common justice and the ordinary privileges accorded to men in their individual capacities, why incorporate them at all? Why not refuse charters to all comers, and compel every work, public or private in character, to be done by individual enterprise and with personal liability? Then would Missouri be actually fulfilling the condition of things charged upon her through the labors of her Constitutional Convention, viz: "Taking no steps except backward ones." If their efforts in this particular are indicative of the rest of their work, then indeed may we expect to find the predictions of its fate fulfilled in its repudiation by the people.

QUEEN VICTORIA AND AMERICA.

Extracts from a Letter of Thurlow Weed—The Queen and Prince Albert Anxious for the Preservation of Peace During the Rebellion in America.

Mr. Thurlow Weed, who, as is well known, was sent to Europe on a confidential mission, at the crisis of our foreign relations during the Southern rebellion, writes a letter to the New York Tribune, in the course of which he gives the following interesting reminiscences:

The celebration of the ninety-ninth anniversary of American independence, in London, possesses more than ordinary interest, indicating, as it does, a gratifying promise that an event which occasioned a seven years' war between England and America, will, at the close of the century in which it occurred, find both countries cordially united, emulous only to rival each other in the elevation and prosperity of their respective Governments and peoples.

MR. WEED'S VISIT TO EARL RUSSELL.

I found the Minister quite alone, and was courteously received. Conversation for the first ten or fifteen minutes was embarrassed by an evident determination on the part of the Minister to ignore all other questions until the honor of England should be satisfied by the surrender of Mason and Slidell. Gradually, however, the restraint passed away, and His Lordship explained the circumstances which led to the Queen's proclamation giving belligerent rights to the Rebel States. It was evident that even if his sympathies were not with the South, he had come to the conclusion that we were the aggressors. I endeavored to correct that impression by calling his attention to two or three undeniable facts upon which the whole merits of the question turned. After an hour and a half, lunch was announced, and the conversation became general. In the drawing-room, after the Earl had conversed aside with Lady Russell for a few minutes, thanking him for the time he had spared me, I was taking leave, when Lady Russell interposed, saying, "You must not go without seeing the lodge grounds," in walking through which her ladyship pointed out the various objects and localities with which history had made me familiar. In the course of our walk she remarked that ladies of course knew nothing of State secrets, but that they had ears and sometimes heard things which might not have been intended for them; adding, that it would probably relieve my anxiety to know that in our difficulties the sympathies of the Queen were with our Government; that Her Majesty remembered the attentions extended to her son, the Prince of Wales, and would do everything in her power to prevent a rupture with America.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S FRIENDSHIP.

While waiting with intense solicitude for the decision of our Government upon the demand of England for the surrender of Mason and Slidell, I received from the Hon. Arthur Kinnaird, M. P., in the strictest confidence, positive evidence that the Queen had, at the right moment, caused the dispatch demanding the surrender of Mason and Slidell to be so modified in language and spirit as to render a compliance with it less difficult to our Government. Several days after receiving this information confirming the assurance kindly given me by Lady Russell, I received additional and conclusive evidence from another high source. Since the illness of Prince Albert, the late honored and lamented Sir Henry Holland had made daily visits to Windsor. We saw him every evening either with Mr. and Mrs. Adams at the Legation or at our own lodgings. To the question whether the Queen said anything about our troubles, he replied that Her Majesty was too much absorbed in her own to talk or think about public matters. Some days after the information received from Mr. Kinnaird Sir Henry came to us in buoyant spirits, saying that he now had pleasant news. The Queen, he said, had that day asked if there was serious danger of war with America, receiving in reply an assurance from the court physician that war could only be averted by the act of the American Government. The Queen then informed Sir Henry and his medical associate what occurred between Her Majesty, Lord Palmerston, and Prince Albert, when the dispatch demanding the surrender of Mason and Slidell was brought to Windsor for approval. This statement not only confirmed the material facts communicated by Mr. Kinnaird, but superadded minute and interesting details.

When the dispatch demanding the surrender of Mason and Slidell was read by Lord Palmerston to the Queen, and the consequences of a refusal were explained, Her Majesty was startled and distressed at the idea of war with America. Taking the dispatch to the Prince Consort, who, then in his last illness, was sitting in his apartment, the Queen asked him to read it, saying that she thought the language and spirit were harsh and permptory. The Prince concurring in opinion with Her Majesty, subjected the dispatch to erasures and interlineations, in which amended form it was returned to the Premier. In relating this incident to Sir Henry Holland, the Queen added, "that was the last time the Prince used his pen." Not quite sure that Mr. Kinnaird in his letter intended to permit me to state how he obtained the information relating to the modification of Lord Palmerston's dispatch, I am constrained to withhold an interesting incident, without, however, relinquishing the hope of bringing it out at another time and in another form.

NAPOLEON UNFRIENDLY.

Our war with the Confederate States, as we now know and realize, was formidable enough in all its aspects and consequences without the aggravations of a simultaneous conflict with England and France. The French Emperor was unquestionably in favor of the Confederate States, and desired to aid them even at the expense of a war with our Government. His point was that France needed cotton. The Emperor said to Archbishop Hughes what his brother, the Count de Morny, repeated to me, that when the French people were out of employment, the Government was expected to furnish them with bread; that cotton was essential to the welfare of France, and that for this reason the French Government was justified in urging either the recognition of the Confederate Government or the abandonment of our blockade. He sought and expected the co-operation of England, a large majority of whose citizens were with him in sentiment and sympathy. But that national calamity was averted by the firm, enlightened, steady, and wise course of eminent and influential English friends of our Government and Union, to all of whom my sense of gratitude is measured by the value of the services rendered. T. W.

A Singular Accident.

A vacant lot of made land in New York is used as a storage ground, on which are discharged cargoes of soda ash, imported from Europe, packed in boxes and barrels. The recent heavy rains soaked through many of the barrels, and a large pool of water, about nine inches deep, highly impregnated with the soda ash and forming a strong lye, covered the centre of the lot. On the day after the rain a driver with a team of horses drove into this lot, and after obtaining his load turned to go. The nearest way to the road lay directly through the before mentioned pool of lye, and the driver, ignorant of its character, allowed his horses to wade into it. Either the animals stumbled as their feet touched the liquid, or the burning nature of the latter caused them to become excited, and they both fell in the middle of the pool. A few moments of struggling and splashing and they regained their feet, but appeared to be wild with pain, jumping, rearing and snorting as if in great agony. The driver, much astonished at their antics, jumped from his seat to investigate, and in so doing alighted in some of the lye, which spurted on his face and hands. In a few moments the skin commenced to burn, and to obtain relief he was compelled to leave the suffering brutes, whose rage became more intense as their agony increased. The drivers' injuries were dressed, but nothing could be done for the horses, as their burns extended all over their legs and the under portions of their bodies. The President of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to animals was promptly notified of the strange accident, and sent his deputies to the scene, who killed the animals to put them out of agony.

POLITICAL NOTES.

EX-GOVERNOR HAYES is a native of Ohio and Governor Allen is a carpet-bagger.

GENERAL JOHN T. AVERILL is mentioned as one who may possibly be the Republican candidate for Governor of Minnesota.

EX-SENATOR FENTON, of New York, declines to allow the use of his name in connection with a Congressional nomination.

THE Hon. A. H. Rice is generally regarded as most likely to receive the Republican nomination for Governor of Massachusetts.

POLITICAL gossip in Indiana says that General Benjamin Harrison will be the Republican nominee for Governor there next Fall, and that the Democrats will put up against him Congressman W. S. Holman.

WILLIAM NESBIT, President of the Pennsylvania Equal Rights League, has issued a call to the colored people of Pennsylvania to attend the eleventh annual meeting of the league at Carlisle, on thd 17th of August.

A SPECIAL election has been ordered in the Fourth Maine Congressional District for the second Monday in September, when the State election is to be held. A vacancy exists in consequence of the death of General Hersey.

MR. A. R. WRIGHT, of Sioux City, the Democratic nominee for Superintendent of Public Instruction in Iowa, refuses to run. He believes the educational interests of the State would be better subserved by the re-election of the Hon. Alonzo Abernethy.

GOV. ALLEN has known defeat, the assertions of his friends to the contrary notwithstanding. He was beaten in a canvass for the Legislature in 1831; in 1832 he was elected to Congress by a mere scratch, having but one majority; and in 1834 and 1836 he was badly defeated in attempts to secure re-elections.

THE Erie Dispatch says: "William Bigler has by far the best chances of success. In fact, no other Democrat in the State can afford to enter the lists against him. He will, without doubt, be the man put up by the Erie Convention. To be sure there will be some complimentary nominations and considerable puffing for men who thought they were to escape any formidable rivalry, but they will all subside as gracefully as possible and leave the field to Bigler."

THE recent Democratic Conference at Columbus to arrange a plan for the Ohio campaign failed to accomplish any result. The managers could not agree upon a plan because they could not agree upon the principles upon which the campaign should be conducted. The matter was left to the Executive Committee, who have the difficult task before them of ascertaining the prevailing sentiment of each locality and sending speakers to suit, without driving off the minority in their anxiety to please the majority.

THE prospects of a sweeping Republican victory this Fall are growing brighter every day. They are brighter now than they were at the first of the month, and were brighter then than on the first of June. This remark is not made in the way of campaign boasting, but as the deliberate conclusion formed from a large number of letters, conversations with men in different parts of the State, and a careful examination of the country weekly papers. The Republicans are everywhere hopeful. The Democrats are despondent.—Cin. Gazette.

PERSONAL.

GENERAL GARFIELD is slowly recovering from a serious illness.

CHARLES FRANCIS ADAMS recommended newspapers to the college boys.

EX-GOVERNOR ENGLISH, of Connecticut, and his son are traveling in Ireland.

JAMES LICK has not recorded his last will, which was to be an improvement upon the last.

EDINBURGH and his Duchess take eighty tons of luggage in their little summer trip to Russia.

EX-SPEAKER BLAINE appears as the third tax-payer in Augusta, Me., his taxes aggregating $1,085.

THE Rev. W. H. H. Murray's new church in Boston will not be occupied until it is free from debt.

HE that doeth a base thing in zeal for his friend, burns the golden thread that ties their hearts together.—Jeremy Taylor.

MR. EVARTS is now said to look like Dean Stanley. This report is circulated by somebody who has a spite against Cicero.

COL. HENRY S. MOTT and Hons. J. S. Rutan, David Maclay, T. Loftus, A. J. Kerr, and Henry D. Foster were registered at the Girard House, Philadelphia, on Monday.

COLONEL GILDERSLEEVE, who is doing such credit to the American eagle abroad, was fifteen years old before his father allowed him to have a shot gun. He distinguished himself upon that occasion by putting the powder in last.

THERE are seventy-four long-tilted, gray headed survivors of Waterloo. Among them are the Earl of Albemarle, lately appointed senior field marshal, and who has had seventy-four unbroken years of service, entering at 15: Lieutenant General Sir John Bloomfield, General G. Macdonald, General Lord Bokeby, General C. Yorke and Surgeon W. A. Young.

ANOTHER requisition on American military talent has been made by the Khedive of Egypt, who has just appointed to the position of lieutenant colonel in the engineer service of the Egyptian army Col. H. C. Derrick, of Halifax county, Va., who served with credit during the war in the engineer service of the Confederacy. Col. Derrick, who was recommended to the Khedive by Gen. Sherman, has accepted the appointment, and will sail for Egypt Thursday.

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC.

BARRY SULLIVAN will visit the United States next season.

MME. PATTI will open the next operatic season at St. Petersburg.

MADAME RISTORI will shortly appear in Australia in a round of her favorite characters.

IN April next Lydia Thompson will revisit this country with a large troupe of artists.

MLLE. TORRIANNI will head Carl Rosa's English opera troupe next year, both in this country and Europe.

THE New Orleans Varieties will be managed by G. W. Tayleure next season, with Mrs. Chanfrau as leading lady.

LOUISE CARY, the favorite operatic singer, is going to St. Petersburg next season under a most favorable contract.

TENNYSON'S play of "Queen Mary" will be produced in London this Fall, with Miss Bateman and Mr. Irving in the leading parts.

LEW MYERS, a noted Ethiopian minstrel, died at Pottsville, on Sunday, of consumption. His real name was Lewis J. H. Bohmeter.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

THE Mississippi Grangers will establish a college, it is said.

LOOK-OUT now for the first sample of the new postal cards. They'll be out in a day or two.

DOC SWEENY, the last and boldest of the Carbondale bank robbers, has been lodged in jail. He was captured in the State of New York, on Sunday last.

Two more fragments of the Iowa meteor have been found. One weighs seventy-one pounds, the other forty-eight. They were picked up on a farm near High Amana, north of the Iowa river.

A DISPATCH from Calcutta says a further communication has been made to the King of Burmah, regarding the passage of British troops through his country, and it is hoped that the King will yield.

A BOY in Bath, seventeen years of age, has gone into the fruit business very extensively. He has been in the business for five or six years, and owns several small houses and other buildings in Bath, and is said to be worth from $7,000 to $8,000.

M. F. COLLIER, State Agent and adjuster of the New York Underwriters' Agency, fell from the window of his room in the second story of the Sherman House, in Indianapolis, on Wednesday morning, striking upon the iron grating below, fracturing his skull and tearing the scalp loose.

FROM every quarter of Minnesota the prospect is good for above an average yield of all the small grains, especially wheat and barley. Potatoes also promise unusually well, there being very little trouble with the bug this season. Corn is backward, but strong and healthy, and the weather at present is very favorable to its growth. The grasshoppers are reported in the Southern portions of the State, but thus far have not done much damage.

COL. J. W. FORNEY has sent from London to the Superintendent of the National Museum in Independence Hall, in Philadelphia, three interesting mementoes: A photograph of that part of Domesday Book devoted to a description of the landholders of Berkshire, nearly 800 years ago; a copy of the Great Seal of England, with a fine head of Queen Victoria, sent by the Lord Chancellor to Gen. Schenck, in response to his request; and an original portrait of Charles II., lent to the Museum by the American Consul at Southampton. This picture originally belonged to the Duke of Buckingham. It is interesting to Pennsylvanians because it is one of the contemporary portraits of the King who signed the charter which conveyed Pennsylvania to William Penn.

SUMMER RESORTS.

WESTERN people are largely patronizing their home watering places this season.

IT is said that there are now two hundred and fifty visitors at the White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia.

JAY COOKE's princely property at Gibraltar Island, Put-in-Bay, is to be sold under the hammer to-day, the 15th inst.

THE Catskills are looming up. So are the White Mountains, where, we hear, the old-fashioned Concord stages are again in use.

THE number of Summer residences at Swampscott and Marblehead, Mass., is said to be much greater than at the same time last year.

IT has been said that pretty young ladies at Summer resorts understand very well that a parasol is no particular protection from sonstrokes.

A ROWING match for the amateur championship of the United States is to take place at Spring Lake, August 10, between Frank E. Yates, the western amateur single scull champion, and R. B. Bainbridge, a noted eastern champion.

RECENTLY three young men came all the way from Boston to Long Branch to see Annie Louise Cary in the surf. They carried small Russia leather carpet-bags, wore plain black clothes, with waistcoats buttoned up to the throat, and turn-down collars, had pale high brows, deeply furrowed by lines of thought, phosphorescent eyes, and divided public opinion at the Branch as to whether they were disguised grasshopper sufferers or theological students.—Brooklyn Argus.

Summer Excursion Route Book
PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD CO.
This publication is a convenient volume of 234 pages, profusely illustrated, containing sketches of all prominent resorts in the United States, and a map showing the routes to the same. It will be sold at the very low price of Ten Cents per Copy, or Mailed Postpaid for Fifteen Cents, and may be obtained at the Ticket Offices of the Company.
As a contribution to the requirements of the thousands of SUMMER TRAVELERS who desire to familiarize themselves with the many points of interest and attraction open to visitors, this book will be found valuable, because it so systematizes and summarizes pleasure travel as to greatly economize its cost, both in time and money.

VERDICT
In Favor of Howe's Standard Scales.
We, the undersigned, comprising all the wholesale Butchers of Chicago, are using the IMPROVED HOWE STANDARD SCALES, and after using Fairbanks' and other Scales, do find that the improvements in the HOWE Scale render it the best.
We use a scale severely, and find the HOWE to be the strongest.
We weigh out each day over thirty thousand dollars worth of meat, to the retail markets, in various quantities, and require our large scales to weigh small fractions of a pound.
This merit we have found is alone possessed by the IMPROVED HOWE and is maintained after the most severe and longest tests, being attributable to the patent chilled iron balls between the platform and knife edges, on which all friction is received, thus preserving the fine edge of the pivots on which the correct and delicate action of a scale depends.
We also find the IMPROVED HOWE SCALES the most economical, not needing the frequent repairs that Fairbanks' and other scales do.

DR. WHITTIER,
NO. 302 PENN STREET,
PITTSBURGH, PA.,
Continues to afford reliable special treatment in all Private, Nervous and Urinary Diseases.
Spermatorrhœa or Seminal Weakness, resulting from self-abuse or sexual excess, producing nervous debility, night emissions, despondency, dizziness, dimness of sight, pimples on the face, weakness of mind and body, and finally impotency, loss of sexual power, sterility, &c., unfitting the victim for marriage or business, and rendering life miserable, are permanently cured in shortest possible time. Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, all urinary diseases and Syphilis (all forms), consisting of skin eruptions, ulcers, &c., are perfectly cured, and the blood poison thoroughly eradicated from the system. Cures guaranteed.
DR. WHITTIER is a regular graduate of medicine, as his diploma at office shows; his life-long special experience in all private diseases, with purest medicines prepared by himself, enables him to cure difficult cases after others fail. It is self-evident that a physician treating thousands of cases every year acquires great skill. Consultation and correspondence private and free. Pamphlet sent sealed for stamp. Medicines sent everywhere, by mail or express.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, July 15, 1875.

Gold appears to be on the decline, the price having dropped in the last twenty-four hours 1⅛ per cent. It looks as though it would prove a permanent decline. The large payments by the Government, and the sale of a million dollars last week by the Treasurer, in New York, are doubtless the cause of the sudden tumble. Then it is possible that the implied purpose of the Government to prepare for specie resumption had something to do with weakening holders of coin, particularly since the large falling off in imports gives uncertainty to the demand this fall.

The money markets in all the larger cities of the country continue easy, rates of discount low and surplus large. The wants of the people should all be supplied and thus settlements and collections should be made easy.

There is a fair demand for money here, on short business paper, which is readily accommodated at from 8 to 9 per cent. Good No. 1 paper meets with no difficulty; on the contrary, it is in demand.

The shipments of gold out of the country in the last year reach the sum of $88,467,016.

From October, 1865, to October, 1872, the following changes took place in the principal items in the balance sheet of the National banks:

	1865.	1872.

NEW YORK, July 14, 1875.

Gold was weak, opening at 115⅛ and closing at 114⅞. The decline was occasioned by better prices for consols and American securities abroad and the following dispatch from Washington: "Secretary Bristow claims authority under the specie resumption act to continue the issue of five per cent. bonds over and above the $500,000,000 authorized by the funding act of 1870 to any extent necessary to carry into effect that law." The borrowing rates were 1a3 per annum and 1-16 per diem. Loans were also made flat. Governments were weak, in sympathy with gold. Railroad bonds are weak. State securities are quiet, except Tennessees, which are a little off.

There was little interest taken in stocks to-day. The market opened dull, but generally firm. Towards the close prices declined ⅛ to ⅜, and the market left off weak at the decline. The only feature was a break in Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph from 22½ to 19, with the closing sales at 19.

At the Stock Exchange the suspension of Smith & Seaver was announced, the failure growing out of some old transactions.

The sales of stocks to-day aggregated 82,000 shares, of which 11,000 were Pacific Mail, 25,000 Western Union, 11,000 Erie, 21,000 Lake Shore, and 6,000 Union Pacific.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, July 14, 1875.

No improvement to record yet, and, what is still worse, there appears to be but little prospect of any. Crude continues to decline; immediate shipment was quoted this P. M. at $1,10, and Conduit Certificates at 87½@90. Refined also drooping; New York delivery quoted at 11¾; Philadelphia, 11¾; Baltimore, 11½, equal to about 9¼ on cars here. Notwithstanding prices are lower than they have been for several months, there appears to be little or no demand for the article, as exporters are taking hold very sparingly.

Barrels continue dull but unchanged; countries, $1,10@1,15; city make, $1,28@$1,30.

Chicago Lumber Market.

The offerings at the sales docks yesterday numbered between forty and fifty cargoes. The market was fairly attended by local and country dealers, and about half the fleet was disposed of. Prices were strong for piece stuff, and tolerably steady for inch lumber. One or two cargoes of medium boards and strips were sold at a slight advance. Joists and scantlings were scarce and firm at $8,00 for standard grades. Most of the sales of piece stuff made recently were to arrive, and at $8.00, which figure was refused yesterday for 1,000,000 ft. Coarse piece stuff remains at $7,75. Common inch was quoted at $8,50@9,50, and medium to choice do. at $10,00@13.50, lath at $1,50, and shingles at $2,60@2,65.

Cincinnati Horse and Mule Market.

The sales at the Fifth Street Horse Market for the past two weeks foot up 460 head. One car load was shipped to New York, prices $150@200; and one to Kentucky, prices $140@160. For the last week no shipments have been made, but there is quite an active demand for horses for use on the Cincinnati Southern Railroad, and also for use on the street cars and the Eighth street "chariot" cars.

DAILY REPORT OF PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, WEDNESDAY, July 14, 1875.

The general merchandise markets continue quiet, and present but little that is important to which reference has not already been made. There is no improvement to report in the demand for goods of any kind; the inquiry is still confined almost entirely to supplying immediate necessities, but as stocks must be very much reduced, it is reasonable to infer that trade cannot possibly get much worse. One of our oldest and largest iron manufacturers remarked the other day that the iron trade would do well if they could only hold their own, and we are inclined to the belief that a great many of our merchants and manufacturers will be well satisfied if, after taking stock, they find that they have come out even.

APPLES—Selling in a jobbing way at $3@5 per bbl for green Apples, according to quality.

BEANS—Dull and neglected; will soon be out of season; quotable at $1,90@2 ₩ bushel, the outside figure for prime navies.

BUTTER—There is a continued steady demand for prime stock, and the recent advance is fully maintained; prime to choice, 18@20; medium to good, 12@15.

BERRIES—Raspberries were quoted at $10@12 ₩ stand.

BROOM CORN—There is not much inquiry, in consequence of the depressed condition of the broom trade. A Chicago report, under date of Tuesday, says:—The demand continues about "so so" and prices are usually maintained. Stocks are all the while diminishing, and it is thought that the amount of corn left over will be inconsiderable. The inside quotation for inferior brush (8½c) is said to more properly cover damaged corn. We quote good to choice hurl, 12½ to 13½c; Brush that will work itself into a choice hurl broom, 11½ to 13c; fair to good do., 10½ to 11c; inferior brush, 8½ to 9½; crooked, 6½ to 8 cents.

CHEESE—The market continues active, and we are reported regular jobbing sales of prime Ohio Factory at 11@11½.

EGGS—There is a fair demand at former rates, 19@20.

DRIED FRUIT—The season is about over, but there is a light movement still, at 7½@8c for Apples, and 10½ to 11 for Peaches.

FLOUR—The market is steady, with a fair local trade, but there has been no recent change in prices. Spring wheat flours, $5,75@6,25, the outside figure for choice Minnesotas; $6,25@6,50 for red winter, and $6,75@7 for amber and white. Rye Flour, $6.

GROCERIES—The most and about the only noticeable feature is that our New York dispatch of yesterday reported Coffee lower. A Rio dispatch, under date of 10th, reports receipts at 5,000 bags; purchases, 80,000 bags; stock, 35,000 bags. Sugars continue very firm, with an active trade, the recent advance in refined goods having stimulated the demand. Molasses and Syrups continue dull.

GRAIN—The receipts and offerings of Wheat continue light, but there does not appear to be much inquiry, and prices remain unchanged; $1,23@1,25 for red and 3 to 5c additional for amber and white. Millers complain that wheat is higher, relatively, than its products at current rates. The Oat market continues dull, and prices are weak, with a drooping tendency; 58@59 for mixed, and 60@61 for white, free in elevator. Ear Corn is in light stock, but there does not appear to be much inquiry, and prices remain as last quoted; 75@77, according to quality. Shelled Corn dull and nominal at 74@76. Rye very dull, and prices nominal.

HAY—Baled is still reported at $18@20 on track, and dull; loose from country wagons, $25@28 for old, and $17@22 for new, according to quality and condition.

POULTRY—Chickens dull and drooping; 45@55c ₩ pair.

PROVISIONS—Trade continues to hold out well; it is better than usual at this particular time, but the market is in buyers' favor. A Chicago exchange of the 13th says: Holders of pork products have long been hoping that there would be a let-up in the supply of hogs, but they keep coming in so freely, that the work of summer packing continues on a large scale, keeping up the supply of summer lard and meats nearly to the current demand for those articles. A good many dealers are looking anxiously forward to the stock taking on the 15th inst. We note that the shipments of pork and meats are on the increase; but the stocks of pork are quite large, and the premium for carrying is now so small that there is little inducement for capital to take hold of it.

Briggs, Dock & Drum, Wholesale Dealers and Commission Merchants for the sale of Live Stock, at the Central Stock Yards, East Liberty, report as follows:

CATTLE.

The run, both of through consignments and local stock, was, as will be seen, much larger than that of last week; the supply on sale was nearly double, but with an increased demand the market was unusually active, and the sharp advance of last week, notwithstanding the largely increased offerings, was fully sustained; indeed, some dealers reported prices a shade better on the very best grades. The volume of business was the largest we have had to record during the same period of time this year; the sales from and including Sunday up until noon to-day footed up 2,857 head, against 1,352 during the same time last week. There was a very full attendance of all classes of buyers, and that they took hold freely is evident from the fact that, notwithstanding the largely increased offerings, there were but very few remaining unsold ot the close to-day; the regular eastern buyers bought freely—one firm having purchased some 45 cars, and the country buyers did not hold back. Indeed, we think the market turned out much better than was expected, in view of the very liberal supply.

While in some instances sales were made at better rates than last week, there was no general advance, excepting for the very best grades, the supply of which was light—unequal to the demand; all the other grades ruled about the same, although, as already intimated, the general tone and spirit of the market was in sellers favor. There were but few Texans on sale and but few wanted; one bunch of fair quality brought 4 c, and, on the other hand, 7,40 was paid for a car of choice native steers—averaging about 1,375 lbs, the best bunch of cattle on sale this week.

QUOTATIONS.

Extra 1,400@1,500 steers	7,00@7,25
Prime 1,200@1,300 steers	6,40@6,75
Fair, 1,000@1,150 steers	5,75@6,25
Common, 900 to 1,000 steers	4,50@5,50
Bulls, Stags, and Cows	3,00@4,00
Texas	2,50@4,00

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The offerings were much larger than those of the corresponding time last week, but with a demand fully up to the supply, rates current at the date of our last review were fully maintained. It looked on Monday, the supply on sale being larger than at any time since, as though the market was destined to break down, but the receipts subsequently having been comparatively light, the market stiffened up, and as we close our report there are but very few remaining unsold. Trade was a little slow yesterday (Tuesday), but it was in consequence of a scarcity of the right kind of stock, not that there was any falling off in the demand. The supply of prime fat sheep was light, scarcely equal to the demand, but as compared with the close of last week, we do not there was any quotable or general advance.

QUOTATIONS

Extra 95@100 lbs	5,25@5,50
Prime 85@90 lbs	4,75@5,00
Good 75@80 lbs	4,25@4,50
Fair 70@75 lbs	3,75@4,00
Common 70@75 lbs	3,25@3,50
Lambs, 50@60 lbs	6,00@7,00

HOGS.

The run of this kind of stock has been light for several days past, unusually so, and with an average demand and diminished supply the market is stronger, and prices slowly but steadily advancing. At noon to-day there were scarcely any remaining in the pens unsold, and if the receipts should continue as meagre during the latter as they were during the early part of the week, we predict that there will be a still further advance between now and Saturday.

QUOTATIONS.

Philadelphia Hogs	7,75@7,90

Decrease of Exports.

The statistical abstract of the foreign trade of the United States shows a decrease of $18,000,000 in the currency value of the exports of domestic produce during the first eleven months of the fiscal year 1874-75. The main part of the decrease has arisen upon the following nine articles, all of them leading staples of export:

	11 months ending May 31.
Exports—	1875.	1874.
Flour	$21,881,878	$26,562,804
Wheat	53,115,185	88,567,733
Cotton	181,874,614	205,609,632
Petroleum	23,999,396	33,924,527
Bacon and hams	27,015,359	31,177,256
Spirits turpentine	1,704,303	2,373,346
Tallow	5,168,415	7,240,103
Leaf tobacco	23,125,722	28,111,081
Timber	2,030,347	4,045,310
Total nine articles	$339,915,047	$427,311,792

In the nine articles here alluded to, there has been a decrease of $87,500,000. About forty million dollars of the falling off has arisen on wheat and flour, and is traceable partly to the lower prices of those articles—wheat having averaged 30c lower than for the previous year—and partly also to holding back of grain in the interior. The decrease of $23,800,000 in cotton is attributable almost entirely to the reduced quantity exported, the price having averaged only ⅜c lower. In petroleum, there is a decrease of $9,600,000, the reduction having arisen from a diminution of 20,000,000 gallons in the export and a decline in the average price of 3¼c ₩ gallon. In bacon and hams there is a decrease of nearly 30 per cent. in the quantity shipped, while the reduction in the aggregate value is only 12½ per cent., the price in this case having averaged higher than the previous year, and, in consequence, limited the export; and the same rule applies also to tallow. In tobacco, we have a decrease of $5,000,000 in the value of the exports, and of 84,500,000 pounds in the quantity shipped, the price having averaged 9⅝c against 11⅜ the year previous. The principal articles that show an increase in the value of the exports are corn, furs, hides, hops, firearms, leather, oilcake, cheese and lard. These facts show that the falling off in the exports has been mainly connected with diminution in the surplus of products available for shipment; and that the fall in their money value is not uniformly due to reduced prices.

Sergeant Signal Service, U. S. A.

THE stage of water last evening was three feet four inches, and stationary. Weather cloudy and sultry, with prospects favorable for more rain.

THE Coal Bluff, from the brick-yard, arrived and departed.

THE Sam Cravens was totally wrecked by the freshet in the Big Sandy River Monday.

CAPT. M. R. HARRY paid seven thousand dollars for the steamer Ruth for the Memphis and White River trade.

THE wreck of the Juniata was sold by the United States Marshal, on Tuesday, to R. Monroe, boiler maker, for $1,750.

THE John L. Rhoads arrived at Cincinnati on Tuesday, and the Fannie Tatum left there the same day for Pittsburgh.

THE Belle of Shreveport goes on the dock at St. Louis to have her butts caulked. Her hull was not broken by her late mishap.

THE Ashland arrived, and returned to Brown's Island to bring up 100 tons of metal, she was compelled to discharge at that point.

THE Storm arrived on Tuesday, with one of Gray's iron barges, which was drawing 3 feet 8 inches, and started down last evening for some more.

LOUISVILLE collected $1,061.75 wharfage in the two weeks ending last Saturday, divided as follows: City wharf, $428 25; Portland wharf, $43.50; Strader's wharf, $6,000.

NEXT fall, from Memphis to New Orleans, fifty cents ₩ bale on cotton, two bits a barrel on sundries and $2,50 to $3 ₩ ton on oil cake are likely to be big rates. The railroad from there South will be a rival, and an earnest one, too, for all through business.

THE Secretary of the Treasury decides that an alien cannot be legally licensed in the capacity of master of an American vessel under any circumstances. But he may be licensed as an engineer or pilot, provided he has declared his intentions to become a citizen of the United States.

PILOT JAMES HAMILTON, of the Rover, arrived yesterday afternoon from Wheeling. He reports the Rover and Ironsides laid up at Wheeling Island with their tows; Iron Mountain, I. N. Phillips and Hope at Ritchietown; James Gilmore at Captina; Ed. Hobbs, Ike Hammett and Storm No. 3 at Fish Creek, and the Simpson Horner at Steubenville.

A JULY 13 dispatch from Gallipolis says: The river here is 25 feet, and rising rapidly. The Hawkeye came here and returned at 11 A. M., gathering up her tow of five barges which broke loose last night; one sunk at Beach Hill, and two were landed here by the Wild Gazelle. The Boone, from Kanawha at 5 P. M., reports a flood in Coal River, and great destruction of property.

IN 1827 Captain Joseph Miller built at Shousetown the first Red Rover. Captain Miller, Sharp Baldwin and Jo. Dally were the principal officers and owners—three friends who in life were always connected in business, and who now, in death, sleep side by side in the old graveyard at Nashville. In 1857 Captain Wm. Strong, of the Skipper Jones, built at Louisville the second Red Rover, having used the boilers, machinery, cabin, &c., of the old Buckeye State.

A TELEGRAM from Charlestown, W. Va., Tuesday evening, says the Kanawha was 24 feet high. A raft valued at $1,000 broke loose last evening, and, passing through Tyler shoals, swept the old Clara Scott away. An 18 foot rise in Coal River last night proved very disastrous to lumber, bark and stave men; also to farmers. The Peytona Company lost two barges of coal. The river is too high to ascertain the damage to locks.

THE St. Louis Globe-Democrat says:—The adjustment of condensers on the James Howard is rapidly approaching completion. By Wednesday the job will be pefected. Captain Pegram, of the Howard, is enthusiastic in his expressions of assurance as to the benefits to accrue from this improvement. The Helena, of the Anchor line, and the Natchez, of the Lower Mississippi trade, have tried the condensers, and in both cases the experiment has proven more than satisfactory.

A CATLETTSBURG dispatch, July 13, says:—The Big Sandy river at this place commenced rising rapidly yesterday at 12, and by evening the river was running a perfect torrent. The steamer Sam. Cravens was swamped in the mouth of the river. This morning, on Southeast Front street, Mrs. Looman's house and the Thompson House were washed away by the water undermining the banks and their falling in. The Sherman House and several residences on Front street are momentarily expected to be destroyed. Sandy river is forty feet and rising at Louisa.

WEDNESDAY'S Cincinnati Commercial says:—The Fawn, from Evansville, arrived with a good trip. She reshipped 90½ tons of pig iron for Pittsburgh, on the Hudson....The John L. Rhoads has one item of 10,000 iron railroad ties for St. Louis. She will reship 100 tons on the Charles Morgan at Evansville, including 3,000 bundles of cotton ties for New Orleans. The Rhoads received 75 tons here. Capt. Perry Therp is figuring on a stern-wheel steamer for Capt. O. P. Shinkle and others, her length to be 250 feet, beam 38 feet, and depth of hold 6 feet. She will be similar to the Cherokee, and will ply in the New Orleans trade.

YESTERDAY'S Cincinnati Gazette says the freshet Monday night, in the Licking, caused considerable damage. At Gordon & McClune's landing, two Campbell's Creek barges and one Montgomery barge, all loaded or partly loaded with coal, were sunk at their moorings, and one Pioneer barge and one Coalburg barge broke loose, and are supposed to have been sunk. Fisher & Humpert lost a barge containing three thousand bushels Campbell's Creek coal. It was mashed to pieces at its mooring. Livesay lost $1,500 worth of saw logs. Two barges, several flats, and a shanty boat, belonging to the Champion Tow and Coal Company, came out with the flood, but were caught yesterday morning, in the vicinity of St Keck's factory. The water had risen to the floor of the bridge of the Maysville and Paris turnpike, where it crosses the North Fork, and there was an almost certainty that the bridge would be washed away. The actual losses in this vicinity foot up as follows: Gordon & McClune, 35,000 bushels coal, $3,150; Cambell's Creek Coal Company, two flats, $800; Montgomery, three flats, $500; tow-boat Tom Farrow, coal barge, $300; Fisher & Humpert, three thousand bushels coal, $350; Livesay, saw logs, $1,500; total $6,665.

Dead Body Found.

The body of an unknown man was found in the Allegheny river at the foot of Locust street, on the North Side, yesterday afternoon about three o'clock. The remains were so much decomposed that the flesh was only prevented from falling off the bones by the clothing. The Coroner was notified and will hold an inquest on the body to-day.

Furnished House Wanted

by a gentleman with no family, within easy distance of the city, accessible by drive or railroad. East End preferred. Best of reference given. Parties going away for the summer will find a good opportunity to get a fair rent for their residence when gone, with good security, that house and grounds will be in same condition, as when they left them, by addressing "Banker," P. O. Box 1026.

Mt. Union College.

The following is the programme for Commencement week at Mt. Union College: Baccalaureate Addresses, by Rev. C. H. Jackson and others, Sabbath, July 18, at 10:30 A. M. Baccalaureate exercises continued in Alliance College Hall at 3 o'clock P. M. Addresses by pastors of Alliance and others. Examination of classes, Monday and Tuesday, July 19 and 20. Graduating addresses, by the Senior Class, Thursday, July 22, beginning at 8:30 A. M. Addresses by Dr. J. H. Vincent, of New York, and others, Thursday afternoon, July 22. Contest performances, by the Republican and Linnaean Societies, Thursday evening, July 22. The music both instrumental and vocal, interspersing commencement exercises, will be furnished chiefly by the students of the college and the choirs of the literary societies.

Concerning the Stamp Tax on Drafts.

The following important internal revenue decision has been made by Commissioner D. D. Pratt, of the Treasury Department at Washington, D. C:

"In decision No. 177, dated April 12th, 1875, it was held that drafts or bills drawn in the United States upon a foreign country need not be stamped, not being 'vouchers' in the meaning of the law while in this country." That ruling is from and after this date, June 30th, 1875, reversed. "The statute in question, section 15 of the act of February 8th, 1875, imposes the stamp tax of two cents upon every 'bank check, draft, order or voucher for the payment of any sum whatsoever drawn upon any bank, banker or trust company.'" "Drafts, bills, checks or orders drawn in the United States, or on a bank, banker or Trust Company in a foreign country, although perhaps not 'vouchers' while in this country, appear to me to be clearly taxable under the terms of the statute. They are drafts, checks or orders drawn upon a bank, banker or Trust Company, and there is nothing in the law limiting to this country the locality of the bank, &c., upon which the paper is drawn."

LAST EVENING'S RAIN.

A Lot of Earth Washed on the Track of the P. R. R.

The heavy rain of last evening was not without its results. The track of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Thirty-third street was covered with earth, which was washed down from the hill above, and at different points on the road all the way to East Liberty it was covered with mud to such an extent as to stop travel. A squad of men was put to work to remove the obstruction last night, and in a few hours the track was clear. It is said the water came down the hill at Lawrenceville at a fearful rate, and did considerable damage by washing out the loose earth at the base of the hill.

ALLEGHENY FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The Annual Review This Afternoon.

The Allegheny Fire Department will be publicly reviewed this afternoon. The Department apparatus consists of six steamers, eight hose and one hook and ladder truck. There are about fifty men connected with the Department. The review will take place on Montgomery avenue, between Arch and Federal streets. The companies will march from their houses and take position on the avenue, when they will be put through the drill under the direction of Chief Engineer Crow. Members of the Committee on Fire Engines, and other Councilmen will officially view the inspection. After it is over the Department, headed by a brass band hired by the boys, will "procesh" up Arch street to North avenue, along North avenue to Federal street, and down Federal street to City Hall, where the line will be broken and the companies sent to their respective headquarters.

THIEVES IN THE SANCTUARY.

A Bold Robbery at the Liberty Street Church.

Last evening when the sexton at the Liberty street M. E. Church, corner of Liberty and Fourth streets, opened up for prayer meeting services he was greatly astonished to find that some irreverent wretches had broken into the church and stole some money. The thieves effected an entrance forced their way into one of the rear rooms which is used by the Official Board for their meetings. In this room was a desk and table, both of which was broken up. The desk contained about $20, which had been collected from the Sunday school for missionary purposes. It was taken. The books and papers were scattered about promiscuously, indicating the desperadoes had been in somewhat of a hurry. All they secured, however, was the $20 in cash—nothing else tempting their capacity. There is no clue to the thieves. It is to be hoped that the rascals will be caught and properly dealt with.

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Session of the Commission Last Night—Monthly Reports—Two Horse Hose Carriages—Babcock Extinguishers.

The Fire Commission held a regular meeting last night, President Wilson in the chair. A detailed report from Superintendent Fullwood regarding the work in his department last month was read and filed. Chief Engineer Hamill reported but ten fires and alarms during June. The greatest was at the Brilliant oil works, where the loss amounted to $100,000, and where eleven sections of hose were lost. The second in extent was the Bown fire, where the combined loss of all who suffered was $100,000. Upon this occasion two firemen, James Slattery and Mathew Sloan, were injured, the former in escaping from a falling wall and the latter by being run over by a hose carriage. On the 7th ult. Engine Co. No. 10 was placed in service in the new house in the Thirtieth ward.

Secretary Case submitted the following financial report:

Expended in June	$11,268 65
Previously expended during the year	51,512 14
Total since January 1, 1875	$62,780 79

The matter of accepting a number of Babcock fire extinguishers from the insurance companies of the city again came up and a number of the members expressed their opposition to putting an additional load of fifty pounds, which the apparatus weighs, upon the hose carriages, where the insurance men want them, for the reason that the carriages are already heavy enough for one horse to draw.

On motion of Mr. Pitcairn it was decided to accept the extinguishers, provided the Commission is allowed to place them where it deems proper.

Mr. Torley presented the following:

Resolved, That the Chief Engineer be instructed to change the hose carriages so as to use two horses, and that the monthly committee be instructed to purchase the additional horses needed.

Mr. Pitcairn moved that the matter be referred to the Monthly Committee to report as to the practicability of making the change, and what companies really need two horse hose carriages. Carried.

Adjourned.

HUMANITY TO HORSES.

The Oakland Passenger Railway Again Fined—The Case Appealed to Court—Another Suit this Morning, and Thirty-five in Reserve.

Alderman Cassiday yesterday imposed a fine of twenty dollars and costs on the Oakland Passenger Railway Company for cruelty to animals, the suit having been brought by Superintendent Street, of the Humane Society. This makes the third time this corporation has been fined within as many weeks. The penalty in this instance being large enough to admit of an appeal, the defendants announced their intention of carrying the case to court. Indeed their lawyer asked that the fine be made twenty dollars in order that they might appeal to a higher tribunal. The offense was committed on the 4th inst., and the Superintendent drew the attention of the employes of the railway to the condition of the horse, which had a very sore shoulder, before it was put in the car. In conversation yesterday with Superintendent Street, he informed our reporter that he had no wish to be considered a persecutor at all, but that he would be obliged by the dictates of humanity to prosecute the Oakland Passenger Railway Company until it complies with the law, and treats horses as though they have some feeling. The corporation, he said, has defied both the law and the Humane Society. The hearing yesterday was quite interesting, and was distinguished by a manifestation of considerable feeling. Not content with the evidences of penitence on the part of the defendants, Mr. Street alleging that they declined to promise acquiescence in the law, he entered another suit for cruelty before Alderman Gallagher, on Fifth avenue. The hearing takes place at ten o'clock this morning and will doubtless be very entertaining. Mr. Street says he has over thirty-five cases of cruelty marked down against the Oakland Railway, with sufficient evidence to establish the truth of every one of them, but that he will gladly and willingly drop all if the company will only promise to comply with the law which, singularly enough, they have persistently refused to do.

ANOTHER FLOOD.

The Heavy Rain Last Night.

The Butcher's Run District Again Covered with Water—The Residents Thoroughly Frightened—A Number of Families Prepare for the Worst—They Move their Furniture Up Stairs—The Damage.

The anniversary of the greatest calamity that ever visited Allegheny City, the flood in the Butchers' Run district, is almost here, and, as it approaches, it is the cause of a great deal of discussion, and brings back fresh to the memory of those who participated in the terrible scenes of that memorable Sunday night, the heart-rending horrors and thrilling incidents of that event, which they will likely never forget.

Last night it was feared by many that the same unfortunate district was to be visited by another such a calamity, and they had good cause for their fears. About half-past nine o'clock a terrible rain storm broke over Allegheny City so suddenly that its approach had not been noticed by many, and about twenty or twenty-five minutes the rain poured down in torrents, and flooded all the streets in the central portion of the city, so that it was impossible to cross them. It rained for about ten or fifteen minutes fully as hard as on the evening of July 26th of last year. In the Butcher's Run flooded district the people were greatly excited and in many cases they removed their furniture and goods to the second stories of their residences, so sure were they that the entire district was to be deluged again, as it was last year. For a short time the greatest excitement prevailed and windows and doors were filled with people watching for the first sign of the approaching flood. In some cases, on East street, the people abandoned their houses and went up on Howard street.

A VISIT TO THE DISTICT.

During the prevalence of the storm our reporter made his way as rapidly as possible up to the unfortunate district. Ohio street, from Federal almost to Chestnut street, was full of water from curb to curb. On arriving at the corner of Chestnut and O'Hara streets, a crowd of men were found standing there watching the water which was pouring down from O'Hara street, from Chestnut street, and from Spring Hill. At that point the street was covered with about six inches of water, together with several cart loads of dirt and stones, and the gutters, as might be expected, were running full of water. No damage was done here whatever, nor in this vicinity. On repairing to Madison avenue the street was found to be full of water. On looking out towards its intersection with East street, a number of lamps were observed moving around the street rapidly, and on going to that place, to which point the large sewer has been completed, the water in Butcher's Run was seen entering the sewer. The sewer terminates in the middle of the street, and the excavation down to the end of the same is still open. To the side next Spring Hill an opening has been made in which Butcher's Run empties itself into the sewer. On looking down into this entrance, water could be seen rushing into the sewer at a fearful rate, and it was making such a noise that persons to make themselves heard, were compelled to yell at the top of their voices. The water filled the large sewer to within about three or four inches of its top, and but very little more could have entered it. It was watched very anxiously by a number of men to see that there were no obstructions lodged at its mouth to prevent the water from entering.

THE EXTENT OF THE FLOOD.

About a hundred feet above that place the street was noticed to be covered with water, and on repairing to the spot it was found flooded from side to side with perhaps a foot or more of water, as far up the street as could be seen. The water made its way, at this point, under the board walk to the bed of the run and continued until it reached the sewer. It was impossible to get through the run, so rapid was the current. The street was flooded from here out to Elm street near the city line. At that point the water of the run entered the old stone culvert, but it was too small for the half of it to get through, which caused it to flow down the street. About a hundred feet below Elm street the planks of the plank road were torn up for a short distance and were piled up. Some distance farther down a large number of the planks were torn up and thrown into a pile. In this neighborhood the water was over two feet in depth. Farther down the street it spread out more, and was not quite so deep.

THE DAMAGE DONE.

No material damage was done, however, except the tearing up of the planks. A number of gardens were entirely destroyed, and a large number of cellars flooded, several stone walls knocked down, and some other slight damage. As soon as the water abated somewhat, hundreds of persons ~~congregated~~ in regard to the Plank Road Company, in compelling the city to stop the completion of the Madison avenue sewer, were anything but complimentary. Councils were also severely criticised for their action in postponing the filing of the bond of indemnity necessary to go ahead with the sewer. The excitement was so great that it was proposed to hold a public meeting, and ask Councils to hasten the completion of the sewer.

There is little doubt, but that if the rain had continued pouring down as it did, for ten minutes longer, there would have been another flood similar to that of last year. It would have required but little more water to have carried those planks from the road down into the mouth of the sewer and the water was rushing with such force that they could not have been removed, had they once lodged there.

THE GREAT EXCITEMENT.

During the falling of the rain and the rushing of the water, women and children were so frightened that they gave way to their feeling and began to shriek, so much were they alarmed as to their situation. But little time was lost in finding their way to the second story of the dwelling houses, and for a time things wore rather a threatening aspect. As the water was washing down the lower districts with such force, and was making its way through the streets, the inhabitants thereof were vividly reminded of the fate of friends who only a year ago had found watery grave in that locality. The aqueous element came down the hillside with such force that for a time the greatest consternation prevailed. The women ran outside of their houses and children ran to and fro calling for assistance. It was thought that the flood was just upon them, as it was not known that the water was from the hill above. Those who stood in the distance and looked on could see that there was not so much danger as was anticipated by the inhabitants of the flooded district. Notwithstanding, they could not refrain from extending their sympathy to those who were so visibly alarmed. When the rain ceased to fall and the water began to abate, there were many persons greatly relieved and the scare was at an end. The remembrance of the second edition of the disaster of 1874, only without any fatal results, will long be remembered by those who witnessed it.

REGIMENTAL REUNION.

Meeting of the Survivors of the Sixty-Second P. V.—September 17th Selected—Proposed Reunion of all Allegheny County Soldiers.

The surviving members of the Sixty-second Regiment P. V. held an adjourned meeting last night in the reception room of Municipal Hall, Gen. J. B. Sweitzer in the chair. It was decided to hold the reunion this year on the 17th of September, the anniversary of the battle of Antietam. Capt. E. S. Wright, from the Committee on Reunion, stated that he had no report to present, as the recommendation of the committee, because he had been unable to get the members of it together, but that he would submit a number of suggestions which had been made to him as to the best place for holding the reunion. Three of them comprised excursions, some being in favor of going to Haysville, on the Ft. Wayne railroad, some to Castle Shannon and others by steamboat to Brownsville. The fourth can hardly be called a suggestion. It seems that a proposition has been made for the holding of a grand reunion of all the old soldiers of Allegheny county, on the 17th of September, in the Exposition building to be erected on Smoky Island, and which, it is thought, will be finished by that date. Captain Wright mentioned the fact, and suggested that the members of the Sixty-second might participate in this reunion, and when it is over hold a meeting of their own, at some place which can be hereafter selected. Without acting upon any of the suggestions, and in order to give the members an opportunity to revolve them in their minds, the Association adjourned to meet again on the 3d of next month.

A balloon ascension is contemplated among the entertainments of the day.

····While attending a funeral on Tuesday afternoon the family of Mr. Nicholas Fitzgerald, who resides on the hill above Temperanceville, made a narrow escape from almost instant death. On going down a hill near the family residence the harness broke, and the horses started to run, which was kept up until the carriage was overturned. Mrs. Fitzgerald was seriously injured, but the remaining members of the family were only slightly bruised.

····Sewickley Lodge, No. 426, Knights of Pythias, was installed Tuesday evening. The ceremonies were open to the public, and many of the fair ladies, accompanied by gentlemen of the village, were in attendance. The ceremonies were conducted by G. C., Sample; G. P., Reno; Theo. Myler, G. K. of R. and S.; W. H. Barker, G. V., and Wm. Brown, G. M. A. Mr. E. Merriman is Chancellor Commander of the new lodge.

····Last week, a Pittsburgh editor wrote, "the closer people get to Nature, the closer they are to God." Then he obtained leave of absence to go out into the country, and was struck by lightning while robbing an apple orchard.—Brooklyn Argus. Shocked beyond measure at this dreadful irreverence towards Pittsburgh editors, our reporter took occasion to interview them in regard to the base slander, and they unanimously authorize him to say to the Argus eyed defamer, "You lie, you villain, you lie."

····The following teachers have been elected by the Directors of the Mt. Washington schools: Principal—R. M. Cargo. Grammar teachers—Lizzie G. Taggart, Lizzie R. McMillen. Intermediate teachers—Lottie V. Sellers, Fanny M. Sawyer, Anna Moreland. Primary teachers—S. E. Croner, Franc Carney, Maria Moffat, S. E. Phillips, Juniata DeArmit. Writing teachers—Justus Habich. A resolution was adopted at the meeting of the Board commending the teachers for the faithful performance of their duties last year.

····There was a hearing yesterday before the Mayor in the suit for nuisance instituted by the Board of Health against Reed & Co., soap manufacturers at the corner of Twenty-fifth and Liberty streets. A large number of witnesses were examined on both sides. For the prosecution some testified that the stench from the establishment was almost unbearable and that it was seriously affecting the health of their families. Others in behalf of the defense testified that while an odor was emitted by the concern it was not a source of much annoyance to them. The Mayor reserved his decision. A similar charge was brought last year against Reed & Co., and they were fined fifty dollars and costs.

····Wm. Wagner was yesterday committed to jail by Alderman Krehan, in default of $300 bail, on a charge of keeping a ferocious dog, preferred by Thomas Powell. It appears that on Tuesday the animal very severely bit a little son of the plaintiff. At the hearing it was shown that the defendant had refused to dispose of the dog, a clear case otherwise having been made out, but Wagner claimed that his dog was a faithful Newfoundland dog, and he did refuse to shoot him, but was willing that Powell should kill him. This was denied by a number of witnesses, and 'Squire Krehan committed him to jail in default of bail. The boy, it is said, is confined to his bed from the effects of his injuries.

····A resolution was adopted at the last meeting of Councils directing the Controller to demand pay from the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for city property now in its possession, which abutted on what was Quarry street, and also for the ground which was formerly the site of the old basin. John H. Hampton, Esq., Solicitor of the company, was inquiring into the matter, and states that Quarry street and the property abutting thereon, named in the resolution, were vacated for the use of the railroad company by City Councils, upon condition that all the property lying between Liberty street and the hill, between Washington street and the outer depot, should be purchased by the company. The terms were complied with, and the company hold that the city has no claim against them.

Perry, rectors of Mount Calvary Episcopal Church, for offering prayer for the departed.

HIGH OLD TIME.

Reopening of The Second Avenue Park—Cruel Treatment of Babes.

The Second Avenue Park was last evening the scene of most extraordinary excitement occasioned by several combined circumstances. The grounds had been locked up against the public for some months by order of the Committee on City Property, who, on the part of the municipality, lay claim to its ownership, and who expended a few hundred dollars during the past year for its improvement and adornment out of the city moneys. The idea in excluding the public from the little breathing spot was to prevent the growing grass from being trampled upon until such time as it was hardy enough to bear the foot prints of pedestrians and the romping children. Many accustomed to sauntering through the park grumbled considerably over the embargo, and it has been a question with not a few whether or no the committee did not exceed their authority when they bolted and barred the gates of a place owned by the taxpayers. We shall venture no opinion on the subject, however, as it will in all probability be fully arbitrated and determined by the legal authorities before whom it will be in all probability discussed to-day, in a suit which will grow out of its forcible entry yesterday. There is at present a deep sewer being laid on Second avenue, running parallel with the park on the north side, and, contrary to city ordinance, the excavated earth has been piled mountains high on the sidewalk, thus almost completely blockading it, and pedestrians have been seriously annoyed therefrom, as the street is occupied with the Ormsby railway car track and does not afford room for a safe foot path. Irritated that the roadways through the park were kept closed under such circumstances, especially as the grass had all been harvested, Mr. George Cobley took upon himself the responsibility of throwing down the gates and barriers and opened the ground to all comers. Hardly half an hour had elapsed ere the enclosure was literally swarming with children, and a regular jubilee they made of it, closely resembling a swarm of singing, noisy, boisterous and devastating grasshoppers. They trampled over the forbidden spots with the utmost impudence and made themselves free in stripping the young trees of their scanty foliage, and, in short, had a high old time generally.

While the urchins were thus cutting up their wild capers a man very much under the influence of whisky brought his two infant children into the park, and, stripping them naked, plunged them into the cold waters of one of the fountains, and, despite their cries, kept them in so long that he excited the wrath and indignation of hundreds who witnessed the demoniacal performance. There were stout men there who did nothing to rescue the little ones from the clutches of their inhuman father, as he is a man of much muscle and wickedly dangerous when excited by drink. Two motherly ladies of the neighborhood endured the spectacle as long as they could, when they attempted to take away the children, but they were rudely repulsed with the dire threats of the father. Three policemen appeared on the scene when the excitement was at its highest pitch, and succeeded, by force, in rescuing the shivering babes from the water. After parleying for some time with the intoxicated parent, they succeeded in inducing him to go home with friends. He shortly afterwards reappeared with one of the children, but escaped the police who had concluded to arrest him. It is said that one of the children so cruelly treated had been taken out of a sick bed and thus subjected by its heartless parent to the chilling bath. There will probably be some action taken in this case to-day, and some commensurate punishment will doubtless be meted out to the transgressor.

Thus was signalized the reopening of the timid little Second avenue park, and now it remains to be seen whether it will be re-closed or permitted to go unlocked and free to all.

The "Steck" Piano Forte

is gaining rapidly in popularity on merit, without the elaborate use of printers ink, as will be seen from the following testimonials sent him unsolicited, each one of whom is an eminent artist, whose veracity none will attempt to refute.

FROM ARTISTS RESIDENT IN NEW YORK AND BROOKLYN.

MESSRS. GEORGE STECK & Co.—Gentlemen:—We have carefully tested your PIANOS, both GRAND and SQUARE, and being always ready to appreciate talent and merit, it affords us great pleasure to congratulate you upon the success you have achieved in advancing your instruments to the state of excellence they have reached. We find in them all qualities combined which constitute a THOROUGHLY PERFECT PIANO and which make it a pleasant task to play on an instrument. There can be no doubt that they certainly rank among the very best Pianos manufactured. The manner in which by your late invention the agraffes are introduced, in connection with a plate of bell-metal, is especially calculated to make the quality and strength of the tone of your Pianos admirable. We cheerfully commend them to the public as most excellent and first class instruments.

MEMPHIS, July 14, 1875.
There have been some fears of an overflow from the floods in the upper streams, but the indications at present are that little or no damage will be done in the Mississippi Bottom, as the water is still 8¼ feet below high water mark, while the St. Francis, Arkansas and White rivers, as well as all the lakes and bayous, are at a low stage. The river rose 11 inches. The weather is generally clear; mercury 92. Arrived—Chester, St. Louis. Departed—Thompson Dean, 3 A. M.; Robert Mitchell, 3 P. M., New Orleans.

A Revengeful Organ.

The stomach is a revengeful organ. If we assign it indigestible food, it not only refuses to perform its office, but inflicts upon us unspeakable tortures, such as those of indigestion, colic, cholera morbus, &c. Not content with giving us pain, it frequently inaugurates an excessive and wasting diarrhœa, called dysentery, which carries us to our graves. With a view to prevent these consequences as soon as the stomach gives notice by premonitory twinges that its cargo is not to its liking, a wineglassful or two of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters should be swallowed. This admirable digestive cordial will promptly reconcile the refractory organ to its contents, and prevent any of those annoying and possibly fatal results which the presence of indigestible food in the stomach is liable to produce. The Bitters are also a superb tonic, restorative and appetizer.

PIC-NIC GROVE,
HULTON STATION, A. V. R. R. This Grove is one of the largest in Allegheny county, located at Hulton Station, on the line of the Allegheny Valley Railroad, only ten miles from the Union Depot, a sufficient distance to avoid the annoyance of disorderly characters who frequently disturb picnic parties at groves near the city. It is a cool and secluded place, thickly covered with beautiful shade-trees, having one of the largest and most convenient platforms for dancing in the country, and all other necessary buildings. Good cool water. Dinners furnished at reasonable rates at the Grove. A beautiful drive to this Grove, the roads being always in a splendid condition. This Grove will be rented to lodges, literary societies, military organizations, socials, clubs, churches, Sunday schools, &c. Strangers renting will be required to furnish references. The A. V. R. R. has a double track to Hulton and runs ten daily trains, under careful management, all stopping at the Grove. For terms and full particulars, inquire of WEDDELL & HOLMES, 347 Liberty street, or G. W. NICHOLS, 4025 Butler street.
